Complete Big Movement of Troops to France

NATIONAL GUARD OF WHOLE SISTERHOOD READY FOR BATTLE

Each of Forty-Eight States Has Units of State Organization Now Training or Lately Arrived.

SOME ARE WITHIN SOUND OF BIG GUNS

With the American Army in France, Thursday, Nov. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—National guardsmen from every state in the union have arrived in France, it is today permitted to be announced. They are among the troops now training, or lately arrived.

While it is not permitted to disclose the identity of units, it may be said that all those which sailed from the United States have arrived safely and that some already are in training within sound of the guns on the battle front.

Fine American Spirit.
They are showing a spirit in keeping with the purpose of all concerned to make the American expeditionary force a homogenous American army in which division, whether regular, national guard or national army, cannot be distinguished in efficiency from the others. The former state troops are billeted over a wide area and are pronounced excellent soldiers. The guardsmen have been arriving in the American zone for many weeks. They are scattered somewhat but as far as possible the units from the same states have been kept close together, except in one case. They found the regular army had made good preparation for them, and while many are billeted in houses in French towns, others have been quartered in low wooden barracks especially built for them.

Welcomed by the French.
The troops from the various states have been recognized by the French population and have been welcomed enthusiastically. Many of the units on arriving in billet towns wear the French red, white and blue cockades pinned to their campaign hats. These were given to the soldiers when they landed at base posts. After a sufficient time to rest from the journey, which in some cases has been extremely tiresome, the troops have been set to work training for actual service at the front.

DESK WARRIORS NO LONGER MAY BE HUSKY BOYS

Washington, Nov. 30.—Desk warriors—army officers of draft age in non-fighting service—are no longer to be added to the war department rolls except in special, unusual cases. Secretary Baker in an informal decree published today, expressed his strong disapproval of the practice of placing men of fighting age in positions that might be occupied by older men.

Further applications for commissions from men between 21 and 30 years of age will be rejected unless the applicant can exhibit adequate proof that his capabilities in a special line of service exceeds those of some men immune from the draft.

MEN IN FRANCE HAVE AMERICAN THANKSGIVING

With the American Army in France, Thursday, Nov. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Every American soldier in France spent a great American Thanksgiving today. He dined on turkey and all that goes with it until he could eat no more. The feature of the day was a football game in which a team from the engineers defeated a team from the infantry. The game was watched by thousands of American troops and a thousand French soldiers who were home from the front as "boys." The shouts of the footers were heard far afield and towards the end of the game the French soldiers, getting the hang of it, became just as enthusiastic as the Americans and joined in the cheering. Virtually all instruction work and drilling was suspended for the day and in some places the men were permitted to stay out an hour later tonight. In nearly all camps the men themselves supplemented the dinner with boxes of cigars and other luxuries and for the time many an American soldier thought he was home.

IS LONGING FOR PEACE

Chancellor von Hertling Says That in Speech to Reichstag.
SAYS GERMANY'S ARMS HAVE WON
Warns Italy and Italy's Friends of Stubbornness for War.

Berlin, Nov. 29.—(Via London, Nov. 30.)—The war situation was reviewed before the reichstag today by Count George von Hertling, the new imperial German chancellor. He declared that Germany was ready to enter into peace negotiations as soon as the Russian government sent representatives having full power to Berlin. The chancellor said he hoped and wished that the present efforts would take definite shape and "bring us peace."

U-Boat War Will Succeed.
German arms, the chancellor said, have been uniformly successful and the submarine warfare will reach the aim intended for it. He said that the ships sunk will exceed that of those newly constructed. He praised the army and navy and eulogized the home population for its patience and endurance under great privations. Political reforms would be carried out, but the

GERMAN CLUTCH ON EAST AFRICA NEARS THE END

London, Nov. 30.—The end of the East African campaign before Christmas is predicted by the Reuters correspondent at Ndara. He declares that by that time the German commander-in-chief will either be a prisoner or in exile.

RUSSIA BARRED UNTIL SHE HAS PROVED DESERT

New York, Nov. 30.—Announcement was made today by the management of Hero Land, the great bazaar which is being given here for the benefit of allied war relief organizations that none of the proceeds from the bazaar will be contributed to Russia until there is established there a stable government which is recognized by the United States.

It also was asserted that the American ambulances now in Russia will be transferred to the Rumanian front and that the 40 or more ambulances now ready for shipment from the United States to Russia will be sent to Italy or France.

SAMMY "GETS ACQUAINTED" IN FRANCE

Sammy can't speak much French, but what of it? The French children can see "fun" in his eyes and his "I-like-you" smile would win friends anywhere. Sammy's adaptability and love of humanity have already carved a niche for him in the hearts of the French people. As the picture shows even the discomforts of an improvised barber shop can't prevent him from enjoying himself.

EXPLOSION TERRIFIC

Illinois Mine Wrecked by a Gas Blast, Entombing 18 Miners.

WORK OF RESCUE THROUGH NIGHT
But Few Men in Mine at the Time Because of the Holiday.

Christopher, Ill., Nov. 30.—Rescuers worked all night in an effort to reach the eighteen miners trapped on the six hundred foot level of the new north mine of the Old Ben Coal Corporation here by an explosion last night which wrecked the mine and the shafts.

The rescue parties from Benton and Herring reached the scene a few hours after the explosion and aided the men already on the ground.

That only eighteen men were caught in the mine was due to the fact that yesterday was a holiday and the remainder of the 700 men employed at the mine were not at work.

Officials of the company say they have been unable to learn the cause of the explosion as no unusual amount of gas had been noticed in the mine.

So great was the force of the explosion that wreckage was blown a thousand yards, a cage being hurled through the top of the tipple house and completely wrecking the cage transportation machinery.

The imprisoned men were employed in repairing shafts and at various other work after the mine had closed down for the day.

RUSSIA BARRED UNTIL SHE HAS PROVED DESERT

New York, Nov. 30.—Announcement was made today by the management of Hero Land, the great bazaar which is being given here for the benefit of allied war relief organizations that none of the proceeds from the bazaar will be contributed to Russia until there is established there a stable government which is recognized by the United States.

It also was asserted that the American ambulances now in Russia will be transferred to the Rumanian front and that the 40 or more ambulances now ready for shipment from the United States to Russia will be sent to Italy or France.

NO NEWSPAPERS IN ROME.

Rome, Thursday, Nov. 29.—No newspapers were published here today, except one which employs non-union labor, owing to the strike of printers, who demanded higher wages in view of the excessive cost of living. The publishers have refused the demands until Dec. 1, when the price of newspapers will be raised to two cents.

British Statesman's Peace Suggestion Stirs Up a Great Furor.

LONDON PRESS IS FIERCE AGAINST IT
General is Repudiated by Newspapers, Though One Approves.

London, Nov. 30.—The Marquis Lansdowne's letter giving peace suggestions holds first place in the editorial columns of the London morning newspapers, but with the exception of the radical Daily News, which approves it, and the moderate Daily Telegraph, which indorses it in part, it is denounced.

GREAT GUNS ARE IN FIGHT

No Further Large Infantry Action Undertaken on Italian Front.

FRESH MANEUVER BY INVADERS EXPECTED

American General Finds Italians in Splendid Fighting Trim.

Rome, Nov. 30.—Violent artillery fighting is in progress at several points on the front but no farther large infantry actions are reported in today's official communication. The announcement follows:

"The artillery struggle which has been growing more intense on the whole front was particularly brisk in the region of Meletta on the Asiago plateau, and on the plains along the middle and lower Piave. In the coastal area British monitors obtained a direct hit and severed a bridge of boats which the enemy had thrown across the river in the vicinity of Passarella.

"Above Asiago an enemy airplane was downed in an aerial combat. Last night an enemy encampment between Feltré and Fontanafredda was bombarded effectively by our machines."

EXPECTING NEW MANEUVER.

Italian Army Headquarters in Italy, Thursday, Nov. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—The lessening of the intensity of the enemy attack along the northern front is regarded as forecasting the moving of activity to other sectors.

BATTLE IS ON WITH TB BUG

Double Cross on the Court House Registers Daily Growth of Campaign.

SEAL SALES SHOW GAIN OVER 1,916
Soldiers at Home and in the Trenches Face TB Bug and Enemy's Bullets.

Total seal sales to date	175,120—$1,751.20
Same date last year	165,460—1,654.60
Increase	9,660—96.60

Christmas seal headquarters' officials are elated with the showing in the increase of sales of the seals over Thanksgiving day. The record Friday showed sales amounting to 175,120, equaling $1,751.20. The record a year ago today showed sales of 165,460, equaling $1,654.60.

The spirit of Thanksgiving—being a forerunner of the Christmas spirit, led to thought of the purpose of the seal sales. This year, for the first time, the benefits of the money thus acquired extends to the trenches across the sea, and to the camps of our gallant and beloved boys in training at home for our defence later in trenches, where the TB bug lurks below while the enemy bullets whistle above. Of the two enemies the TB bug will get the most if those at home fail to provide the means to fight the germ. Every seal targets a bug—therefore, those who buy have the supreme satisfaction of knowing that they are doing their bit with highest efficiency.

PREPARING WAY FOR THE THIRD ISSUE OF BONDS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—Education work to clear the way for the forthcoming Liberty Loan will be mapped out at a conference here on December 10, the details of which were being worked out by the treasury department today. The date of floating the loan is still indefinite but will be some time after the beginning of February. Governors of the various federal reserve districts that cover the country and representatives of the Liberty Loan committees in their districts, including the women auxiliaries will gather to interchange views of methods to be adopted in the light of the past subscription campaigns and perfect organization to carry word of the loan to people everywhere. The conference is planning to carry on the policy of acquainting everybody with the facts of the situation.

DUAL EMPIRE IS READY TO MEET RUSS PROPOSAL

Austria Accepts Offer to Enter at Once Into Negotiations for Armistice and General Peace Treaty.

MAY BRING DECLARATION FROM U. S.

Amsterdam, Nov. 30.—The Austro-Hungarian government, according to a dispatch from Vienna, has sent an official reply accepting the Russian government's wireless proposal to enter into negotiations for an armistice and a general peace treaty.

The reply was sent yesterday and is as follows:
"The guiding principles announced by the Russian government for negotiations for an armistice and a peace treaty, counter proposals to which are awaited by the Russian government, are, in the opinion of the Austro-Hungarian government, a substantial basis for entering upon these negotiations. The Austro-Hungarian government therefore declares it is ready to enter upon negotiations as proposed by the Russian government regarding an immediate armistice and a general peace."

(Signed:) CZERNIN, "Foreign Minister."

MAY BRING DECLARATION.

Washington, Nov. 30.—Austria's decision to line up with Germany in opening peace negotiations with the Russian Bolsheviks may possibly have some effect on the administration's disinclination toward a declaration of war on the dual monarchy, but the general impression in official circles here is that it will not bring about any tangible development for the present at least. Administration senators gathering for the coming session of congress, among them some who have publicly expressed the opinion that the United States should declare war on all Germany's allies, have found on conference with the executive branch of the government that there is no disposition to ask congress to make another war declaration at this time. They found that the hope of breaking up the central powers alliance had not been entirely abandoned and that President Wilson continued to work on his address to congress today and

SHOW BRITISH HOW TO BUILD TRACKS

Under Fire Americans Do Their Job With Coolness and Speed.

British Army Headquarters in France, Monday, Nov. 28.—(By The Associated Press.)—American troops have played an important part in General Byng's drive before Cambrai.

It is now possible to tell the people of the United States for the first time that American army engineers have had a large hand in the marvelous work which has been accomplished in the way of pushing the vital railways up to the front. The engineers have been laboring on roads behind the British lines for nearly four months and two of the men were who were wounded were the first American casualties announced from Washington. The military requirements have made it impossible to mention their presence here before this time.

GOVERNMENT OF LENINE FALLEN SAYS A REPORT

London, Nov. 30.—The government Chronicle dated Wednesday. It has been succeeded by a coalition cabinet of advanced socialists, in which, however, the Bolsheviks are represented.

DAY'S WAR SUMMARY.

(By the Associated Press.)
Austro-Hungary has officially replied to the Bolshevik proposals, stating that it recognized them as affording a suitable basis for entering upon negotiations for an armistice and general peace and that the Austro-Hungarian government is ready to enter into such negotiations.

Dispatches from the British front in France report an attack by the Germans in progress in the region of Gonnelieu, in the Cambrai battle area. The point struck at lies at the southern base of the salient formed by Gen. Byng's recent advance.

The early advice did not disclose whether the attack was merely a relatively unimportant counter-attack or a more ambitious attempt by the Germans to break through the British lines.

to abandon the hold they have gained on the east bank of that river in the Masnières region, which seriously menaces Cambrai from the south.

American engineers played a large part in the preparations leading toward the blow to Cambrai last week. These are the first American troops to take part in the operations on the British front and a delayed Associated Press dispatch says they have been building railroads in the Somme district nearly four months and for a long time have been working within range of the German artillery. Not content with building and running the vital communication lines, the American engineers entered the firing line during Gen. Byng's push to act as a rearward stretcher bearer.

Butler, Ind., Nov. 30.—Millard Tyson, 16 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tyson, and Lester Casebere, 19 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Casebere, residing near here, are dead as the result of injuries received when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a fast west-bound New York Central train Wednesday night. Casebere was killed outright, while Tyson died a few hours later.

The accident occurred at 11 o'clock, an hour after the crossing watchman had gone home. Five accidents have occurred at this crossing within the past year.

XMAS BOXES FOR SOLDIERS.

Huntington, Ind., Nov. 30.—The Red Cross Christmas committee, which has undertaken to provide a Christmas box for every man from Huntington county in the service of the United States, reports that its fund, raised by subscription, a tabloid show, and a benefit dance, amounts to $1,203.46. More than $700 was subscribed.—The sewing workers of the Red Cross have turned out 13,000 garments since November 1, and Tuesday set a high record for attendance and daily output. One hundred and eight women gathered at the workshop in the court house, and turned out 1,235 pieces. One woman more than eighty years old, came for yarn, for socks, and when she found none was available, she stayed to sew, and then refused to ride to her home, a mile away.

SAVED DINNER.

Department Called When Cook Car
Catches Fire.

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 30.—The local fire department saved the Thanksgiving dinner being prepared for a special train of soldiers passing through Bluffton from California to an eastern port. As the train was pulling into Liberty Center, six miles west of this city, fire was discovered beneath the stove in the cook car, and the local department was called. An alarm was sounded and when the train pulled into this city the department was on hand. The chemicals failed to put out the flames, which had got a good start, and it was necessary to use the large hose. The dinner was saved.

PAY RECORD PRICE.

Huntington, Ind., Nov. 30.—The Strauss Brothers company, of Ligonier, paid a record price of $195 an acre for the J. Luther Zirkle farm, in Jackson township, Huntington county, according to the deed filed for record Wednesday. The farm contains 160 acres and the total price was $31,200.

KILLED MOOSE AND DEER.

Hartford City, Ind., Nov. 30.—Dee Wesner, who has been on a hunting trip in Canada, has arrived home after a fortnight's good shooting which was attended by some exciting experiences. Wesner is having shipped here two deer and a bull moose, the meat from which will be offered for sale at the butcher shops. The moose is a fine specimen and Mr. Wesner experienced a thrilling moment in killing it. The first shot only wounded the big animal, and it charged the hunter, who stood his ground, finally dropping it after firing six bullets into its body.

DOCTORS ARE BOOSTING IT

Still the good work goes on, soon there will not be any more tired, nervous people in our city.

This is caused largely by the widespread use of Phosphated Iron, the new tonic and nerve bracer that has sprung into instant popularity with the medical world.

Phosphated Iron will help any run down, nervous condition almost immediately. It will put fresh iron in the blood, the phosphates taking hold of the nerve centers and bracing them up. You will eat better, sleep better and get up in the morning feeling like doing things; you will feel the old-time vim and snap of youth surging through your veins; you will tackle the day's work with confidence and a smile.

Science has taught us that when we have enough Iron and Phosphorus in the blood and nerves we are healthy; that almost all conditions of ill health and nervousness are due to the lack of Iron or Phosphorus. Phosphated Iron rarely fails to supply the needed amount of both.

Use Phosphated Iron one week and you will forget you were ever nervous, tired out and run down, you can feel it taking hold.

Special Notice.—To insure physicians and their patients receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put up in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to substitute pills or tablets; insist on the genuine, in capsules only. LESSON FOR DECEMBER 2

NEHEMIAH BUILDS THE WALL OF JERUSALEM.

LESSON TEXT—Nehemiah 4:7-21.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is my Helper and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.—Hebrews 13:3.

The lesson of November 18 spoke of Nehemiah journeying to Jerusalem. After his arrival he spent three days in looking over the work; then he told the priests and other leaders his plans. Enthusiasm was awakened, all classes were aroused, the work of the building of the wall of the city was apportioned among the people, and soon half of the wall was completed "for the people had a mind to work."

I. The Wrath of the Enemy, vv. 7-9. The progress of the work kept up the anger of Sanballat the Horonite and his friends who formed an alliance to hinder the wall being built (vv. 7, 8). When God begins to work through his people, Satan is aroused and tries to interfere. It is no sign that a Christian is out of the will of God when opposition is felt. The enemy will always be on hand to try to hinder whenever a real work for God is going forward. Dead formal Christianity runs smoothly and with deadly monotony and Satan lets it alone, but as soon as some results of real work are seen, opposition is at once felt. Thus it was when God sent his Son into the world, and so it has been in every movement for God in the church, and so it will be in the individual Christian life. From the next verse (9) we would almost think that Nehemiah had heard our Lord's injunction to "watch and pray." Many do much watching and fall; many do much praying and fall; but none ever turns to watching and praying without finding victory. Prayer alone means sloth; watching alone means pride; but watching and praying victory.

II. Internal Opposition, vv. 10-14. Sanballat and his friends were not the only ones Nehemiah had to contend with. Among those that worked on the wall were some shirkers and grumblers. They had become discouraged in the work and began to say they could never complete it (v. 10). If Satan fails to hinder the work from the outside, he will attempt to create dissatisfaction on the inside. Internal confusion of the church is more to be dreaded than open opposition from a known enemy. Dissension and confusion in the church can usually be traced to workers becoming discouraged. The plot of the enemy to make a surprise attack was discovered by the Jews who lived outside the city. They reported it not once, but ten times, with the suggestion that the work on the wall be stopped, and safety sought by leaving the city altogether (v. 11, 12). When the enemy's open opposition fails and discouragement has been tried, an attempt is made to bring fear upon the workers. But the Bible is full of exhortations for Christians to "fear not." Could these workers on the walls of Jerusalem have seen the unseen, it would have made little difference to them whether the enemies were numbered by tens or thousands, and could Christians today realize that God is for them, all opposition would be as nothing. (I Cor. 10:13; Rom. 8:31; Phil. 4:13). Nehemiah at once proceeded to allay the fears (13, 14). Armed forces were arranged about the walls to guard against the reported surprise attack. The warriors were placed so that in the event of battle they would be protecting their own particular families. Then Nehemiah made a short speech of encouragement to the people, the heart of which was "Remember the Lord which is great and terrible." Remembering him would drive the fear away. They who are on the Lord's side are already victors even before the battle has begun. Someone said to a great general before a certain battle began: "I hope the Lord is on our side." The reply was: "I trust we are on the Lord's side." When this is true, there need be no fear whether the enemies be few or many. Nehemiah then exhorted them to fight for their families and their homes. This two-fold secret of the victory is presented to us over and over in this book of Nehemiah, and nowhere is so prominent as in this lesson. Victory for the Christian depends on two things: We must trust in the Lord as though all depended on him, and we must work and fight as though all depended on us. This is the secret of the success of Nehemiah.

III. The Progress of the Work, (vv. 15-21). The speech of Nehemiah having quieted the fears of the people and the enemy having heard that their plans were known and that God had brought their counsel to nought, all the people returned to the work with renewed enthusiasm and purpose (15). There was a rearrangement of forces (16-21). Half of the people worked; half, full armed, stood guard. A trumpeter was beside Nehemiah, so that at the first alarm from outside all the workers and warriors could be called to the threatened spot. Then they went ahead with building of the wall.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1917.

IT HAS HELPED GREATLY HERE.

Every Red Cross Christmas seal purchased aids in the rescue of some human being from the clutch of the white plague. To understand the extent and value of this work of humanity people hereabouts need only to know what has been accomplished for the rescue of human life and the conservation of human resources in Fort Wayne during the past three or four years.

The work here has been constantly handicapped by a want of funds, yet the work prosecuted under auspices of the local anti-tuberculosis society has saved scores of lives that but for the efforts of the society were permanently doomed. Men and women and children upon whom the scourge had set its mortal seal have been taken in hand, cared for and restored to health and strength and usefulness. This has been worth while, not only from the standpoint of a common humanity, but from the standpoint of social economy. When it is considered that the restoration of a tuberculosis patient to health costs little if any more than a decent burial, it must appear to any rational mind how clearly it is a reproach without mitigations that society chooses in an appalling number of instances to spend money for funerals instead of for the work of rescue.

With war stupendously wasting the world's human stock in the old world and ready likewise to waste our own, the race has dire need to conserve itself in every way possible. There are not now in civilized modern lands enough men and women to perform the world's work. The cry in every country is for more workers. We hear it here and will increasingly hear it while the war continues to take from the normal channels of employment hundreds of thousands of men to be devoted to the wasting work of the battle and in many cases to be eternally sacrificed on the reeking fields of death. While the duty is upon the nation to go on with its dreadful task until it is accomplished and the nation's future made secure, it is no less a duty of the state and society to do what may be done to make an end of the appalling waste of life not due to the war—a waste that has been going on without remission time out of mind and with progressive increase simply because we have been too blind, too indifferent, too stupid and too inhumane to set the necessary checks upon it.

The country must now give its solemn attention to the duty of waging war to a finish against the white plague. The lives that can be saved are lives that cannot be spared. The human resources that can be conserved are resources for want of which we shall suffer and all mankind will suffer. The purchase of Red Cross Christmas seals will go far to promote this great work of rescue and conservation.

PUT OVER THE Y. W. C. A. FUND.

Good progress has been made in the Fort Wayne district with the campaign for the Y. W. C. A. fund. There remains a good deal to do. During the coming week a big drive is to be made throughout the country to complete the total of $4,000,000 that is needed for the work the association has planned to do in connection with the war camps.

There are conditions in the camp and cantonment cities that only an organization like the Young Women's Christian association can well deal with. To accomplish this labor the association must have ample funds with which to support trained workers and the people of the country must supply the money. Four million dollars is no great sum to be raised among more than one hundred millions of people. There ought to be little difficulty realizing the goal of this campaign, and there will be if the response be general. A gift of a few cents per capita of the population would make it assured.

While it has been found necessary to take steps to safeguard the morals of the hundreds of thousands of young men who have gone into the army camps, it also has been found no less necessary to similarly safeguard the welfare of girls and women of the cities where these camps are situated. Not all of the peril that threatens the girls is due to the camps, for war creates abnormal conditions that do much to undermine the moral status, and it is a designed part of the Y. W. C. A. work to perform good in whatsoever ways it may be found necessary.

The whole country will benefit at once and hereafter from the work of the Y. W. C. A. The program is broad and far-reaching and will correctively touch a multitude of bad conditions for which there must be remedy. No better use for four millions of dollars can be found than the employment that the Y. W. C. A. purposes to make of the fund which the country is now raising for the association's undertakings.

HISTORY REPEATING.

Germany is again engineering peace maneuvers. In his speech to the reichstag yesterday Chancellor von Hertling made that clear, though it had been indicated by Germany's reception of the proposals of the Bolsheviks for an armistice on the Russian battle lines.

A year ago Germany was similarly maneuvering for peace. It was on December 12 that Chancellor von Bethmann Hollweg announced to the reichstag that the imperial government and its allies proposed to move forthwith for negotiations. What Germany had then to propose, if anything, has never been disclosed. There was but the veiled overture. The undertaking of President Wilson to promote a peace effort drew from the allies of the entente a frank statement of their position. Germany gave no sign of her terms. Six weeks after Chancellor von Bethmann Hollweg's announcement the German government stunned the world with the announcement of her resumption practically without notice of submarine ruthlessness.

It then became clear that Prussianism had been anticipating her revival of U-boat atrocity with an anterior justification. Germany did not then want peace, because she believed that with the submarines turned loose to wage ruthless warfare on the seas Great Britain would be brought to her knees in a few weeks and German peace could be dictated. U-boat frightfulness has failed Prussianism. It has been an appalling menace and is a most critical factor in the war at this time, but it has been vastly checked and it will scarcely be able again to accomplish such a measure of destruction as marked the first three or four months of unrestricted warfare.

What Germany now bases her new peace adventures upon, other than the collapse of Russia and the prospect of a separate peace there and her mighty but now arrested drive at Italy's heart cannot be seen. There is nothing in the situation on the west front to support a Berlin emanation. America is getting into the war with men and resources that in a few months will begin to count decisively in that theater. Political effect in menaced Italy and in Rumania, where abandonment of Russia will add tragedy to tragedy, doubtless have some place in the German design.

But while these peace pretensions are again arising out of Berlin the allies are in supreme council in Paris considering how they may best launch their united strength against the enemy. There is peace purpose in that, too—purpose that looks to a peace all can accept and in which all may feel secure. The Paris prospect is better than Berlin's.

There is indication in the fashion Villa's bandits are monkeying up around the region of the border that Villa is not engineering the job of creating a situation in which trouble with the Carranza government is conceivable.

There is going to be so much real business for congress to do that its approaching session is accompanied with perhaps as little general mskiving and disturbance as can be said of any congress.

Germany indicates a willingness to go at peace tinkering again. The last essay of that sort was preliminary to submarine frightfulness. What next has Prussianism to uncover to affright the world?

And rule your conduct with the turkey and its fixings so that you will not have occasion for reactions from thanksgiving spirit the day after.

Any peace that the Bolsheviks is willing to enter into with the Prussians will be a fine joke to cheer up the kaiser at a time when he needs the cheering.

Still glows when the heart is dead.

Though the lute of the singer be silent,
And the strings of his lyre are rust,
Yet would my heart ever sing of our love,

For the chord of the lyre may vanish,
And its music be silent for aye;
But the song of a love that is deathless, my own,
Will echo from earth to the sky!

GOVERNMENT DIRECTION OF FINANCIAL INVESTMENT IS A NEED WAR HAS BROUGHT

BY DR. ARTHUR J. SELWYN BROWN.

Dr. Arthur J. Selwyn Brown is one of the most eminent financial authorities in America. His opinions are not conclusive, of course, but they carry much weight. His discussion here following is interesting and deals with a business problem of the war.

The United States government must sooner or later take action to direct the course of financial investment in the United States, if the security market is to be saved from a possibly disastrous crash.

Two weeks ago the bottom dropped out of the New York stock market. Today the bond market has reached the lowest point since the sensational decline immediately following the outbreak of war in 1914.

The decline in security prices has been temporarily halted by favorable war news, the possibility of freight rate increases for the railroads, and by the action of the stock exchange governors in drastically controlling short selling.

But the trend is unmistakably downward and must continue to be so until effective governmental action is taken. The reason for this is obvious. The government has suddenly become the largest competitor for ready capital in the money market. And as war operations continue, the government is going to require all the available capital in the country. This will put the cost of capital up and therefore force the liquidation of low interest-bearing securities.

There have been suggestions that short selling in the market has been responsible for panicky conditions, and demands that short selling be made illegal. There are excellent reasons why this cannot be done.

"Short" selling is a perfectly legitimate and necessary financial practice. To sell securities "short" is just as necessary as to quote price on the cost of building a bridge or a skyscraper, in advance of construction.

The man who sells stocks "short" believes that in the future the price of the stock will fall below the price he paid for it. He is not a speculator, but a contractor, the estimates may have been wrong. Then, of course, the contractors in each case will lose money. They must live up to their contracts.

In such short selling operations the public is benefited because the market is stabilized by the transactions. If there were no numerous transactions of this kind being carried out every day markets would fluctuate violently and irregularly. Short sales tend to restore equilibrium.

Buy short selling can be abused. Groups of powerful operators can join funds and force an abnormal state of prices. It is this abuse that must be guarded against. And that is what the new stock exchange rule aims to prevent.

Short selling, however, is not the cause of present panicky conditions in the market. Since November, 1916, securities have been steadily dropping. The decline has been particularly rapid since the middle of August. High grade bonds have declined more extensively than any other class of security, and railroad shares have closely followed the declines in bonds.

Industrial securities, though more erratic, have also slid down almost vertically.

This decline is undoubtedly due to the knowledge that American participation in the war must be increased so as to restore any losses or weakness caused to the allies through Russian and Italian conditions.

Armies, ships and munitions on a far grander scale than we believed would be necessary, before Russia and Italy collapsed, must be furnished. And the money to do these things must be obtained by public loans. Two of these loans have been successfully floated. More have to come. The government, for the duration of the war, must be a great borrower, and their great government borrowing necessity is the main cause of the drop in bond and stock prices that has demoralized the money market. For apart from patriotic considerations, government security will always be preferred in competition with private security.

But just as government borrowings have been such important factors in depressing security prices, so government action will supply the remedy.

The only effective action short of closing the stock exchange, as was done when war was declared, will be the fixing of minimum security prices and the limitation by the government on trading on the issuing of new capital for industrial purposes, on the investment of American capital abroad, and the control of interest rates.

In other words, it will become necessary for the people, through their government, to say where money shall be invested. This power, if exercised, will subordinate the private interest of the investor to the public welfare.

It may be a radical step, but the abnormal condition will make it necessary. Private interests must give way before the national interest, and the government limitation and control of investments is imperative if the country is to put its full strength into the great struggle.

And while such governmental actions will at first severely hit investors, in the long run it will benefit them as much as it will benefit the country generally.

If the government does not sooner or later take such action, the result will be not only the bankruptcy of a great number of financial and industrial concerns, but a financial panic of disastrous proportions.

WHAT THE AMERICAN SOLDIER DID TO AID NATION WITH MONEY

The American soldier does not believe in doing things by halves. He uses the full unit in giving expression to his practical patriotism. He not only stands willing to support the flag in its glorious onward march to world liberty and freedom, laying down his life if necessary, but he stands willing to aid the government by lending liberally of his money. What he did in connection with the second liberty loan should serve as an inspiration to the entire nation.

Subscriptions to the second liberty loan from the military establishment of the United States reached the gigantic total of $89,803,300. The American army had a per capita subscription of $76.88, representing an average subscription of $113.25 and nearly 70 per cent of the army subscribed.

The American expeditionary forces in France subscribed $5,661,350. Troops in Hawaii rolled up $1,269,150; those in Panama $1,113,600 and those in the Philippines and China $358,550. The thirty-one cantonment camps in the nation subscribed for 142,080 of the war bonds. The sixteen national army camps subscribed for $23,740,900, the fifteen national guard camps taking $19,339,600 of the securities. Twenty-five of the thirty-one cantonment camps were worth the $1,000,000 mark and eleven of them subscribed individually for more than $1,500,000. The national army camps had a per capita subscription of $58.36. Camp Meade, at Admiral Maryland, led the national army with a per capita subscription of $59.35. Camp Cody, at Deming, New Mexico, led the national guard with a per capita subscription of $56.56.

The North Pacific coast artillery district, with headquarters at Seattle, Washington, reported a total subscription of $454,650 from 4,063 subscribers of a total strength of 4,718 men.

In the latter part of the bond campaign, officers and enlisted men were detailed wherever practicable, to cooperate with local liberty loan organizations. A typical sample of the results was shown in the telegraphic report from Camp Lee, the national army cantonment at Petersburg, Va., to the effect that through the efforts of officers and enlisted men of that camp, bond subscriptions amounting to $14,532,450 were obtained from persons residing outside of Camp Lee.

This amazing showing by the men in arms should bring home with compelling force a lesson in practical patriotism to all persons who are not called to the army. The next liberty loan will determine the extent to which this lesson carries.

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

Mrs. T. J. Logan has gone to Atlanta, Ga., to visit relatives and friends during the winter at her old home.

Horses and pedestrians had a difficult time for the last two mornings owing to the icy condition of the pavement.

M. Stanley Robison, general manager of the street railroad company, will present the Lindenwood cemetery with two beautiful swans in the spring.

Henry Kolman and Martin Schuler have returned from their southern hunting trip. They were loaded down with game.

Messrs. Ben Woodworth, Fred Hartman, Lou Kinnard, Herbert Mudd, Ron Davis and Lieut. Harry Crane have returned to Purdue university after spending Thanksgiving in this city.

Dr. Kessler last evening held an inquest over the remains of the infant found in St. Mary's river on Thanksgiving day. No marks of violence were found and it is presumed the child was dead when thrown into the river, possibly by some one too poor to pay for a funeral.

Watchman Henry Kiel last night about 11 o'clock discovered flames in the Seavey hardware store on West Main street. An alarm was at once turned in and the department soon extinguished the flames. The fire caught from a range which had been set in the floor without a sink under it. The gas was turned on somewhat heavier last night and the floor caught and is consequence.

TAYLOR SINK HOLE

HAS BEEN FILLED

Dangerous Place in Road
Southwest of Albion is Repaired.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Albion, Ind., Nov. 30.—The Taylor sink hole, four miles southwest of town, dangerous to traffic for a number of years, has been filled according to specifications by Coats Brothers of this city, and is now being finished with a coat of gravel, after which travel over the sink will be resumed. The work has been in progress for a year or more and thousands of yards of dirt, besides debris and timbers were required to complete the work, which is creditable to the contractors and the county commissioners are also to be commended for obliterating this dangerous piece of road.

Fort Wayne and will give in the new high school building, next week, a course in "Short Method of Mathematics." This course is designed for students, teachers, accountants and business men and women.

The course will begin next Monday evening at 7:30, and will continue for five evenings. Dr. Baker has traveled, studied and lectured in four continents, and his chief effort has been to shorten and simplify mathematics with the emphasis on practical business arithmetic. He brings back to the people of the United States some of the very best results of these years of research and study. He comes most highly accredited by leading educators and bankers from the many states in which he has lectured.

During the last few days Dr. Baker has demonstrated his work before about two thousand students and teachers in the city schools of Fort Wayne. By these demonstrations he has already created a very enthusiastic interest in his course of lectures. Many students, teachers and business men have reserved seats for the course, which will be given in five evenings next week.

He trains his students over at least thirty of the most practical principles or rules in business arithmetic. No books are required, but each student does practical work on his tablet, and next to the last evening, will make an arithmetic, or key of his own, including the various rules, with the solution of problems.

Garrett, Ind., Nov. 30.—Miss Theresa Livingston, of South Bend, is the guest of Miss Anna Stern, while the former's daughter makes a trip to St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Jackson, of Chicago, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Keene.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Feagler, of Cleveland, are visiting Mrs. Lottie Parkhurst.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rogers, former residents of this city, are spending a few days with their many friends here. They are moving from Detroit to Chicago, where Mr. Rogers has a position with the International Harvester company.

Miss Madolin Connors went to Chicago Junction Wednesday for a week-end visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Duncan.

Mrs. Fred Stahl is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lashapelle, of Hicksville.

Madolin and Bernice Byanski are visiting relatives at Akron, Ohio, over the Thanksgiving vacation.

Dale Green, of Indiana university, a Arden Green, of Chicago, are week-end guests of their parents, Mr. and

Fort Wayne and will give in the new high school building, next week, a course in "Short Method of Mathematics." This course is designed for students, teachers, accountants and business men and women.

Miss Mildred Gailey, of Esmond street, left on Thursday noon for Chicago to be the guest of Andrew Wallace and daughter, Marion, for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Allyn, of Cleveland, O., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Beers for a day or so. The visitors came for yesterday's holiday especially.

Mrs. James McConnell, of Indianapolis, came to remain over Thanksgiving and the end of the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Anderson, of South Calhoun street.

Mrs. E. Rosenthal is going to Chicago tomorrow for a visit with her son and will accompany her grandson, Robert, who came here for Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stickley, of Edgewater avenue, gave a dinner party last evening in honor of Miss Anna Koehling, who is to be a December bride. The hosts and guests presented the honor guest with several gifts and enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kintz, of Portage avenue, entertained at their Thanksgiving dinner Mr. and Mrs. Guy Schultz, of Paulding, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. A. Schultz, and daughters, Vanda and Helen, of Antwerp, Ohio, and Messrs. Harrison Sommers and Robert Cramer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cran, of Edgewater avenue, passed the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage on Thanksgiving day and enjoyed a dinner at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Edwin White.

Mr. and Mrs. Cran have spent nearly all of their married life in Fort Wayne. Mr. Cran is a native of Canada and Mrs. Cran of Glasgow, Scotland. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Cran, Charles, Jr., and family, is living in Los Angeles, Cal.

Miss Catherine Favory, of Lafayette street, and Mr. Alphonse Girardot were united in marriage at St. Patrick's church on Thursday morning.

At 10 o'clock, Rev. J. P. Delaney officiated at the mass and the marriage ceremony. Miss Helen Settemeyer and Miss Margaret Miese, relatives of the bride, were attendants, and the groom was attended by his nephew, Mr. Joseph Hugenard.

The ushers were Messrs. Leland Parrot and Alfred Lauer. The bride walked in with her brother-in-law, Mr. George Settemeyer, of Anderson. The bride's costume was white satin and with it the bride wore a white velvet hat and held a bouquet of bride roses.

The bridesmaids were dressed in white tulle and they wore flowers in their hair and held yellow chrysanthemums. The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom as the bride is an orphan, and was attended by immediate relatives. Mrs. C. C. Cate catered. Later in the day the bride and groom left on a wedding trip and they will be at home after the first of January at 231 East Superior street.

Traveling the bride is wearing a suit of burgundy broadcloth with velvet hat of the same coloring. Guests from away were Rev. Jesse Lothamer, of Huntington; Rev. George Moorman, of Besancon; Mr. and Mrs. George Settemeyer, of Anderson; Mrs. James Miese and R. J. Bower and son, Robert, all of Monroeville.

Haldeman-Emrick. Miss Pearl J. Emrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Judson Emrick, near Poe, and Mr. Albert W. Haldeman, manager of the Lehman shoe store, were united in marriage on Thanksgiving day at noon at the home of the bride. A beautiful dinner that was both a wedding and a Thanksgiving feast was served. Later in the day the bride and groom left on a trip and on their return will be at home in an apartment in Washington boulevard west which the groom has purchased to occupy immediately. Attending the wedding from this city were the bride's uncles, D. A. and E. V. Emrick and Dr. A. G. Emrick and an aunt, Mrs. Henry Felder.

Miller-Melching. Captain and Mrs. Homer Patterson Miller, whose marriage took place on Wednesday evening in Louisville, Ky., are now at home at the Seebach hotel, this city, and expect to remain here all winter as Captain Miller will likely be at Camp Taylor for some months. The bride was Miss Anna Henrietta Melching, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Melching, of this city, and is a handsome and in every household way an accomplished young woman whose many friends have been interested in her approaching marriage. The wedding was a very quiet one as Captain Miller could not get away from duty long enough to come to Fort Wayne.

Music Students' Recital. Students of piano and violin departments of the Boston Conservatory of Music will give a recital on Saturday, Dec. 8, at 1:30 o'clock in Minnet hall. Black and White In Striking Suit

BETTY BROWN.

The sharp and effective contrasts of black and white in costume designs have always been popular with women and seldom is the effectiveness better exemplified than in the costume pictured here. This is a tulle costume of white corduroy, black velvet, and black astrachan, with a satin cone hat in black to match.

The jacket of this suit is notably short and the small inner vest of velvet is cunningly embroidered in white silk and white beads. The coat is bordered with a band of astrachan, which also forms a deep band at the hem of the white corduroy skirt and the muff, and a girdle of the astrachan confines the white crepe blouse.

Fifty Years Old ---She Looks 29

Her Beauty Secret—
Buttermilk and Cream

Before I knew how to keep myself looking young and attractive at an age when most women appear wrinkled and old, I endured all the sharp pains of regret from the very ones whose admiration I was most anxious to retain. How a woman is handicapped the moment youthful freshness and beauty have gone! Unless she can ward off the tell-tale marks of age so destructive to fascination and charm, her future is bound to be one of disappointments and keen regrets. Yet, judging from my own experience, I see no reason why any woman should not regain the clear, velvety smoothness of her skin and look five to fifteen years younger by means of the same simple recipe which I used with such great success myself. Not only has it dispelled every sign of wrinkles, sallowness and even the deepest wrinkles, but my skin has become so firm and beautiful that I no longer worry about the effect of the passing years. At night I simply wash my face with ordinary buttermilk and rub in a teaspoonful of pure roseated cream. When my face was badly wrinkled, I used Japanese Ice Pencils in connection with the roseated cream, and obtained quick results on even the deepest wrinkles, long standing when everything else had failed. To correct all appearance of shiny nose, enlarged pores or oily skin I found the application of a little Poudre Petalis most effective. By following this easy and inexpensive French recipe I know that many a wrinkled, hollow-cheeked, faded-looking woman has banished every sign of wrinkles and complexion blemishes and marvelously increased her beauty.

Note:—Pure roseated cream—Cream Tokalon Roseated—which is mentioned in the above article—is guaranteed by its manufacturers to banish complexion blemishes and make any woman look years younger and far more beautiful in ten days' time or the price will be refunded. The following local merchants stated that despite the war, they could supply these French created products: Meyer Brothers, Decker Drug Co., Wolf & Decker.—Advertisement.

league, which Dr. Carrie Banning, as chairman of the department of public health, and Mrs. A. E. Fauve, as president of the organization, will present, and a musical program which Mrs. C. A. Horton has in charge, will occupy the time until the arrival of Dr. Zimmerman. The musical numbers will represent Morning Musical membership and are to be a piano solo by Miss Ruth Anderson, who will play Grand Polka de Concert, by Bartlett, and two songs by Miss Ruth Gumpfer, which are "My Heart is Singing," by Sans Souci, and "A Bowl of Roses," by Robert Coningsby Clarke.

Meat Substitutes For Meatless Days

BY BIDDY BYE.
To dispense with meat one day each week is not the hardship we find in sacrificing a day's wheat allowance, for the last few years of high meat prices have taught most families to cut their meat meals to the minimum. The average family has long been eating meat only once a day and even less frequently, so that one day wholly without meat is scarcely a novelty.

There are more substitutes for meat than for wheat, although, as the dear old law of supply and demand is still in operation the price of cheese, eggs, fish, and milk which we were wont to serve instead of roast beef, are also showing themselves apt pupils of the aviation school.

In the three recipes here given vegetables and milk are the chief constituents and eggs are used sparingly.

Spinach Cutlets.
One pound spinach, 2 gills boiling water, 1-2 teaspoonful salt, 4 ounces breadcrumbs, 1-4 oz. onion, 1-2 oz. butter, 1-2 oz. flour, yolk of 1 egg, 1-2 pint egg sauce.

Wash and pick spinach and cook in water with the salt for 10 minutes. Strain and rub the spinach through a sieve. Put breadcrumbs, onion and water from the spinach in a sauce pan and stir over fire until mixture is dry. Sides of the pan. Remove the onion. Melt butter, mix in flour and add spinach and cook until quite thick. Then add yolk of the egg and cook two minutes, adding bread crumbs and more seasoning if desired. Turn out to plate in flat cake and let cool. When cold the cake may be cut in portions the size of cutlets, dipped in egg and breadcrumbs, and fried in deep fat. Serve with egg sauce made by adding 2 hard boiled eggs chopped to a half-pint of white sauce.

Tomato Cream Toast.
One and one-half cupfuls stewed and strained tomatoes, 1/2 cupful scalded cream, 1/4 teaspoonful soda, 3 tablespoonfuls butter, 3 tablespoonfuls flour, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 6 slices of toast. Melt butter in a saucepan and add flour, mixed with salt, stirring in slowly the tomato to which the soda has been added, and lastly add the cream. Place toast on plates and cover thickly with sauce.

Celery Souffle.
One small head of celery, 1 tablespoonful bread crumbs, whites of 2 eggs, 1/2 pint milk, 1/2 ounce of butter, salt and pepper. The celery should be well washed and cut in two-inch pieces. Place in cold water and boil up as quickly as possible, pouring off water as soon as it boils and adding milk and seasoning. The celery and milk should be boiled for half an hour or until thoroughly tender, and the milk then poured off. Place bread crumbs in bowl and add three tablespoonfuls of milk in which celery stewed, add the butter and cover to keep warm. Rub cooked celery through sieve and add to soaked crumbs. Beat egg whites stiff and add to celery and crumbs and bake quickly in buttered baking dish. Serve very hot.

Pie's the Dessert For Winter Days

Pie is a cold weather dessert. Most pies are made of heat-giving ingredients, and there are much more wholesome in winter than in warm weather. A pie crust that's well made keeps for a few days, so it saves time and trouble to make a double supply and set aside in a cool place until the "next time you make pie."

Any shortening may be used. I find that many of the "patented compounds" are not only cheaper than lard, but they make the crust more "flaky" and save the animal fats for the government.

To make a pie crust use 1 cup of shortening, 1 teaspoonful salt, 1 teaspoon of sugar and 3 cups of flour. Put all into a chopping bowl and chop until it looks like crumbs. Make well in center of the crumb mixture and add one-half cup of cold water. Mix together with the chopping knife. Do not touch with the hands. Divide in three parts. Place one part on lightly floured board. If all the crumbs have failed to mix dust the board with a few of them.

Roll the crust into shape and put on the pie pan. If the crust is to be used for a "shell" put the crust on the inverted tin and when baked put in the tin and fill.

Some Breads to Eat Not Made of Wheat

BY BIDDY BYE.
During these first wheatless days of wartime the young and inexperienced housewife is a little appalled at the necessity for finding a bread that is not made of fine white flour.

She has a rather vague conception of any other breads at all though she may have a speaking acquaintance with corn bread and has sometimes met rye bread accompanied by the cheese of a sandwich.

By the end of the war, however, the patriotic housewife and her family will be well acquainted with what we have regarded as the poor relations of the bread family, and loaves dark, but delicious withal, of rye and corn, and bran and graham flour, and cakes of oatmeal and buckwheat and many strange grains may find a welcome on our patriotic tables.

Here are three good breads with which to surprise your wheat-less eaters next Wednesday.

INDIAN BREAD.
Mix 1-2 cupfuls graham flour with 1 cupful Indian (corn) meal. Add 1-2 tablespoonful soda, 1 teaspoonful salt, 1-2 cupful molasses and 1-2-3 cupfuls milk. Mix and sift dry ingredients, add molasses and milk and turn into well buttered molds. Mold should not be more than two-thirds filled. Steam for three hours.

SWEET CORN CAKE.
One cupful cornmeal, 3-4 cupful white flour, 3-4 cupfuls baking powder, 1 teaspoonful salt, 1-4 cupful molasses, 3-4 cupful milk, 1 egg, 1 tablespoonful melted butter. Mix and sift dry ingredients, add milk, egg well beaten, molasses and butter. Bake 20 minutes in shallow pan in hot oven.

HOMINY GEMS.
One-fourth cupful hominy, 1-2 teaspoonful salt, 1-2 cupful boiling water, 1 cupful cornmeal, 3-4 cupfuls sugar, 3 tablespoonfuls butter, 2 eggs, 3 tablespoonfuls baking powder. Add hominy mixed with salt to boiling water and let stand until hominy absorbs water. Add scalded milk to cornmeal, then add sugar and butter. Combine mixtures, cool slightly, add yolks of eggs beaten until thick and whites of eggs beaten stiff. Sift in baking powder and beat thoroughly. Bake in hot buttered gem pans.

Winter Hats, High, Snug and Simple

BETTY BROWN.

On gusty winter days how we welcome the sensible hat which clings close to our heads even without pins, and whose tight little ornaments remain firmly attached to the hat even as the hat remains attached to us.

The third hat shown herewith are characteristic of the mild-winter models. The one at the top is the most formal of the three, and with its fine, simple lines and handsome black aigrette is better suited to reception, matinees, or restaurant costumes than to street costumes.

The second hat is conservative and simple in outline, with its high crown softly crushed at the top and a handsome silver peacock serving as its only ornament.

The third hat boasts a very high fluffy crown, a velvet brim covered with white angora wool, and bright wood postles applied upon the crown.

GOOD WAY OF USING LATE HARD PARS TO SAVE THEM.

The late hard pears which are only fit for cooking can also be utilized for jam. Peel these pears and core them. Put them in an enameled ware preserving kettle in which they can cook safely without danger from the action of acid on the metal, and let them stand over a slow fire until perfectly soft. Add one-third the quantity of sugar and a few quinces, if obtainable. Cook again until the mass is a smooth marmalade. Sweeten with brown sugar in the proportion of one cup of sugar to three of the marmalade. This jam is very wholesome as well as delicious and economical.

SILK AS A NECESSITY.

The experts are urging women to use silk instead of cotton and wool. There is bound to be a shortage in both the latter fabrics. In some places it is difficult to get woolen jersey shirts and suits. Silk stockings will replace cotton ones, for every fraction of a pound of cotton is needed by the warring countries. Wool is needed for uniforms, therefore women will have to wear silk. What was once extravagant will now be economy and patriotism. It may be, however, that the government will forestall this by using up the silk for its airplanes.

IN THE CHURCHES WILL MAKE RELIGIOUS SURVEY OF THE CITY

Work is to Be Started Sunday by Methodist Episcopal Churches.

A religious survey of the city will be inaugurated next Sunday under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal churches of Fort Wayne. Early in the season such a survey was made of the Ninth ward by the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church. Now the completion of the canvass for the entire city will be taken up by all the Methodist churches of the city. Divisions of territory have been allotted to the various churches of this denomination. The time has been set for Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. As many workers as possible are desired to assist and they may get directions for it from the pastors of the churches to which they belong.

REV. FRED WAMBGSANSS TO TELL OF CAMP WORK

Rev. Fred Wambgsanss, junior pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, chaplain for the Lutheran soldiers at Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., will tell of the camp work Friday night at 7:45, in the St. Paul's school hall. The college boys will attend the meeting in a body. A patriotic program has been arranged with music by the college band and singing by the chorus.

Rev. Wambgsanss is spending a Thanksgiving and week-end furlough in the city.

Mission Opens.

Evangelist Matt J. Allen, who conducted two successful gospel tent campaigns in this city last summer, has opened a new mission at 1104 Broadway. Services will be conducted every Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30. The services will open Sunday at the same hour, 7:45 o'clock, on the subject, "When the Brakes Fail."

Go to Sheldon.

Mesdames D. F. Hostettler, S. F. Bowser, Jennie Downing, G. W. Grodrian, H. L. Rley, F. S. Kellogg and A. W. Houk went to Sheldon today in the interest of the Allen County W. C. T. U.

Church Notes.

The gospel team of the First M. E. church will hold a special service Friday night at Woodburn in connection with the "Win-My-Chum" campaign there.

A series of meetings will be started at the Nazarene church, Third and Marion streets, Friday evening by Rev. U. E. Harding, of New Castle, district superintendent. Services will be held Saturday night and Sunday night, commencing at the same hour, 7:45 o'clock. A meeting will also be held at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

A CONVENIENT SEWING TABLE.

I have had a broad shelf, wide enough for a sewing table, built over the radiator in my bedroom and painted like the woodwork. There is a small brass curtain rod extending around all three sides of it; and on this is hung a curtain like the cretonne overcurtains at the window. During a cold spell the curtain around the sewing table can be pushed aside to allow the heat from the radiator to come out into the bedroom. Philadelphia Record.

THE DIRECTOR OF EXPLOSIVES FOR NORTHERN MINNESOTA YOUNG WOMAN

Sybil Jensen

It's not the "wrong picture," either. Honest, though, it does look as though the headline ought to say "Poses at Bazar for War Relief" doesn't it? However, when the bureau of mines at Washington S. O. S. d Mayor Clarence Magee, of Duluth, to recommend a district director of explosives to handle explosives. Much of the labor there is alien. Blasting must go on. It sounds like a "man's job."

23-year-old secretary, Miss Sybil Jensen.

She was appointed. Uncle Sam has stopped being surprised at what women may do in this war.

BUGLE CALL BREAKS UP SOLDIERS' DANCE

Thanksgiving Ball in New York Armory Found to Be Against Law.

New York, Nov. 30.—An order issued by Brigadier General Dyer, of the state militia, interdicting dancing at the Twelfth regiment armory broke up last night what otherwise had been a very successful entertainment for 1,200 soldiers and sailors under the direction of the national service commission.

The men had attended the Thanksgiving dinner which had been served by society girls and matrons and many had just gone out on the floor to dance with their hostesses when a bugle blast brought them to attention. An officer on the staff of General Dyer announced that dancing was not permitted in state armories.

Scores of the soldiers and sailors promptly said good night and marched out, some in squad formation, others in groups and pairs.

"They are going just where the government does not want them to go and where we are trying to prevent them from going," said J. Varnum Nott, an officer of the service commission, in a statement issued in explanation of the incident. "But we are going to provide dances for those boys even if the state will not allow us to use the armories for that purpose. They want to dance and should be allowed to dance."

PLATTSBURG CAMP TO TRAIN POLES FOR WAR

Boston, Nov. 30.—Secretary of War Baker has shown America's appreciation of the new army of 200,000 Polish-American young men being raised in the United States to fight on the side of the entente allies by offering the use of the camp at Plattsburg for the training of Polish officers. Ignace Paderewski, the pianist, announced at a patriotic mass meeting of Polish people here.

The meeting, which was held in Tro-mont Temple, was the concluding event on the day's program of the celebration commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the death of Thaddeus Kosciuszko, the Polish patriot. Delegations from various sections of New England took part.

averaging the weight of not less than 25 loaves of bread of any one unit, or five dozen rolls of any one unit, and such average shall not be less than the minimum nor more than the maximum prescribed by these rules and regulations for such units.

"Rule 4. The licensee in mixing any dough for bread or rolls shall not use the following ingredients in amounts exceeding those specified below, per unit of 196 pounds of any flour, or meal, or any mixture thereof:

"Sugar—Not to exceed 3 pounds of cane or beet sugar or in lieu thereof, 3½ pounds of corn sugar. Where sweetened condensed milk is used, the licensee, in determining the permitted amount of sugar, shall deduct the added sugar content of such condensed milk from the net amount of other sugar, of the kinds herein designated.

"Milk—Not to exceed 6 pounds of fresh milk from which the butter fats have been extracted, or the equivalent thereof.

"Shortening—No shortening shall be used except as follows: No to exceed 2 pounds of 'compounds' containing not more than 15 per cent of animal fats in lieu of such 'compounds' the licensee may use not to exceed 2 pounds of vegetable fats.

"The licensee in making any bread or rolls shall not add any sugars or fats to the dough during the process of baking or to the bread or rolls when baked.

"The United States food administration made these recommendations to bakers: "The United States food administration earnestly urges all wholesale bakers to establish as the wholesale prices of their products the prices at which they will offer such products for sale in lots of 25 pounds or more, unwrapped, for cash, at the bakery door, the prices so established to be subject to such additional charges as may be fair for wrapping and delivering when such services are performed by the baker. The United States food administration requests that when such wholesale prices are established the licensee report this fact and state such prices to the federal food administrator in the state where his bakery is located.

"Inasmuch as some wholesale bakers in certain communities are now retailing their bread at their plants direct to the consumer, unwrapped, undelivered, and for cash, at wholesale prices, the United States food administrator recommends that this practice be extended wherever bakers find it possible to do so, adding only sufficient extra charge to cover extra expense.

"The United States food administrator, believing that frequent deliveries are uneconomical and tend to enhance prices, urges all bakers to reduce deliveries wherever possible to one a day over each route, and to consolidate deliveries or zone their territories in order to reduce the expense of deliveries as far as possible."

SINN FEIN AGITATION GOES ON IN IRELAND

Continues to Steam, But It Doesn't Boil Over Into Rebellion.

Dublin, Nov. 4.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The Sinn Fein agitation continues to steam without boiling over into actual rebellion. The purpose of the Sinn Feiners is alleged to be to keep the nerves of the government on edge, to produce the impression that they meditate very dreadful deeds, and at suitable moments to provoke the government action as a revenge for the failure to protect the lives and property of peaceful citizens. They are resolute that that shall not happen again. That is why they have forbidden drilling, or uniforms, or processions.

A disciplined body of men marching in military formation, and trained to the word of command, even if armed only with hurleys, could outmaster any local police force and control any town. Hence such processions are prohibited. Today there were to be Sinn Fein national parades in uniform all over Ireland with a great meeting in the neighborhood of the Curragh camp. That has been prevented.

The military authorities are particularly keen on preventing the acquisition of arms. The Sinn Feiners' main hope of getting arms is not from Germany but from the British army, and there is a constant activity to steal or purchase arms from individual soldiers.

For the present, the government is in the position that through the convention it is offering the Irish people home rule. But the convention drags along without coming to a decision. If it should not form a plan of government Ireland will be left where it was at the beginning, with the knowledge that there can be home rule for twenty-six counties, and that Belfast will not come in and cannot be forced in. The situation then would be that the government would be obliged to suppress the Sinn Feiners.

FATHER OF NAVY DEAD

Hon. William E. Chandler, of New Hampshire, is No More.

LONG PUBLIC LIFE
BROUGHT TO CLOSE

As Secretary in Arthur's
Cabinet He Started
Modern Navy.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 30.—William Eaton Chandler, who as secretary of the navy in President Arthur's cabinet, was largely responsible for the building of the modern United States navy, died at his home here today.

Sketch of His Life.
In a lifetime of endless political activity and almost continuous controversy, the one title freely accorded by men of all parties to William Eaton Chandler was that of "Father of the New United States Navy." As secretary of the navy under President Arthur, Mr. Chandler, on June 11, 1883, approved the plan for the reorganization of the navy which resulted in the development of the present fighting fleet. In a speech in the senate on January 28, 1915, Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, referring to the reading into the record of a letter from Mr. Chandler regarding the naval bill then pending, said:

"Senator Chandler has had a varied experience in naval affairs. He was secretary of the navy under President Arthur, and really began the construction of the new navy. He was on the naval committee when I first came to Washington in 1896, and was at that time one of the ablest men in the senate. Although he has recently entered his eightieth year, his mind is still alert and vigorous. While he is a republican and I am a democrat, he has always been warm personal friends. Necessarily he is better posted on naval affairs than almost any man in Washington, not excepting even the navy department itself."

This praise from so prominent a democrat was peculiarly significant, inasmuch as the democrats were very slow to forgive Mr. Chandler for the part he played as a member of the electoral convention in placing Rutherford B. Hayes in the white house. Democratic revenge was wreaked when the senate, in 1881, refused to confirm President Garfield's appointment of Mr. Chandler as solicitor general.

Born at Concord, N. H., December 28, 1835, Mr. Chandler was educated at academies in New Hampshire and Vermont and was graduated from the Harvard law school at the age of 19. One of his classmates at the law school was Joseph H. Choate. He entered politics at once, served three terms in the New Hampshire house of representatives and was elected speaker of the house when but 27 years old. His first entrance into national political affairs was as one of the founders of the republican party and a supporter of Abraham Lincoln. President Lincoln appointed him solicitor and judge advocate of the navy in 1865, and three months later he became first assistant secretary of the treasury.

While secretary of the navy, Mr. Chandler organized the expedition which, under the command of Captain Winfield S. Schley, went to the relief of the Greely Arctic exploration party.

Fourteen years of service in the United States senate ended when Mr. Chandler was defeated for re-election in 1904 by Henry E. Burnham. His radical views on railroad legislation, which brought him in opposition to republican party leaders, were responsible for this defeat. During the remainder of his life Mr. Chandler made no more public appearances. He considered the undue influence exerted by railroads in New England politics. His last federal position was that of president of the Spanish war claims commission, to which he was named by President McKinley in 1901 and reappointed by President Roosevelt.

Mr. Chandler's legal talent was displayed when, as chief counsel, he carried through many stages in state and federal courts the suits in which it was sought to break the will of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, founder of the Christian Science church.

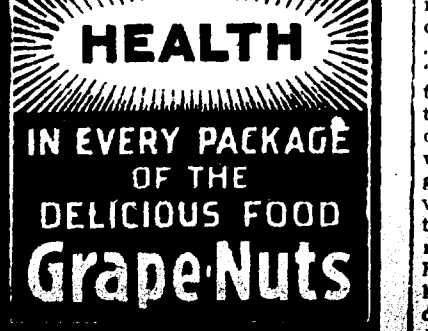

Mr. Chandler was a member of the United States senate for thirteen years, having been appointed to fill an unexpired term in 1887 and twice re-elected. While in Washington last March Mr. Chandler was stricken with illness. He was able to return to New Hampshire later and spent the summer at his country estate and Waterloo. This fall he came to his home here, where his health steadily failed.

Mr. Chandler, who was born in 1835 in this city, had followed with great interest the navy in the present war. One of his sons, Capt. Lloyd Chandler, U. S. N., is in command of a battleship. Three other sons survive: Wm. D. Chandler, publisher of the Concord Monitor; Joseph G. Chandler and John P. Chandler, of this city.

TELLS OF VALUE OF THE IMMORTAL SOUL

Large Audience Hears Mrs. Barr at Crescent Avenue Church.

There was an excellent congregation at the Crescent Avenue Evangelical church in Lakeside Thursday night. Mrs. Barr preached on "The Value of the Immortal Soul." It was a most impressive service and at one time, as the speaker paused, the silence was so intense that the ticking of the clock could be plainly heard. The evangelist said:

"When we pick up the daily newspapers and read of the destruction of human life, we are constantly reminded of the light manner in which the general public holds this valuable gift called life. Thousands of laboring men lose their lives annually from unprotected machinery. The death records of accidents by railroads, steamships and automobiles are so common that we give it but a passing thought. I believe that there was never a time in history when human life was held in such low esteem as it is today."

"When I was president of the Humane society in an adjoining county a young man who was driving a horse that belonged to a prominent company had a serious accident which almost cost him his life. When one of the leading men was called to the phone and an account was made of the accident, he immediately asked: 'Was the horse hurt?' 'No,' said the man at the other end of the line, 'but the boy may die.' Immediately the voice answered back, 'Well, we can get another boy, but horses cost money.'"

"Often times in great industries you will find horses put in relays an hour or two, given good feeding, splendid stabling, and the men of the same industry will be sadly underpaid, underfed and poorly housed. Now I would not have less protection for our horses or dumb friends of any kind, but when Jesus propounded that great question, 'For how much, then, is a man better than a sheep?' he propounded one of the most up-to-date and searching questions of the modern age. When we look into history we find that our great warriors held human life at a very small premium. It was once said to Napoleon, 'Why, that plan, if carried out, would cost the lives of one hundred thousand men.' Napoleon haughtily replied, 'What is a hundred thousand men to me?' And yet Jesus declares that all heaven was more than meat and the body more than raiment?" He laid His head upon the neck of the young beast when He looked at the depravity of the people in Jerusalem from the Mount of Olives and cried, "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that stonest the prophets, how often would I have gathered thee as a hen gathers her chicks, and ye would not." He valued a human soul so much that He said, "As oft as you gave a thirsty man a drink of water, I will give you a reward. Or that as oft as the least and poorest of His kingdom is fed and clothed, or visited in sickness, or even the prisoner administered to, He declared it was the same as administering to Him. My dear friends, when I think of how He valued a soul, the price He set upon an individual and then think of the value that the world and even the church sets upon the individual life, I am appalled, for has He not left us the task of bringing every creature to a place of acquaintance with Him?"

My friend, do you know that in ten thousand years from now you will be just as much alive as tonight? You are the custodian of your own soul. Creeds, bibles, ordinances, preachers, priests, evangelists and churches can't save you unless with your own will, you choose the Christ the Saviour of men. Mrs. Barr will deliver a unique story sermon tonight on "The Human Side of God's Task," adapting one of the incidents of the New Testament to modern life.

WILL START SEINING OF ST. MARY'S TODAY

Anyone desiring to buy river fish at nine or ten cents a pound is urged to be at the St. Mary's river, just east of the Clinton street bridge, Friday afternoon where Michael Costello and C. B. Tolan will dispose of the fish seized by a squad of fishermen. The net is 500 feet long and eighteen feet deep and will be in charge of Clifford Madden, an expert fisherman. Joseph Wartha, deputy game warden from the South Bend, is in the city to supervise the work. The fish to be sold will mostly include carp, red horse and dog fish.

COAL SITUATION ACUTE

Van Wert, Ohio, Nov. 30.—The coal situation in Van Wert is now acute and the indications are that it will grow to a very serious condition. Some homes are wholly out of coal and many have but small amounts. A carload of coal was commandeered last week for the water works, which prevented the plant from being out of fuel. Tuesday afternoon all of the coal at the court house was in the furnace, but a small quantity was procured while the fire was still going. The county infirmary has enough fuel for but a few days. The Presbyterian church has no coal. It may be the churches will be compelled to omit services or have them together as much as possible. The First Methodist church has more than sixty tons of coal, so whatever comes it will be able to care for its own members and many others, in a spiritual way.

Our Paris Shopping Bureau

Since inaugurating this special service of shopping for American soldiers in Paris, we have taken scores of orders. The plan is very simple and most expedient. Paris shopkeepers know best what is best suited to the soldiers' needs. A list of these articles—clothing, tobacco, sweets and little luxuries—has been sent to us, with the price of each. In some cases we have photographs of clothing, etc.

You make your selection from these lists, pay for them or have them charged to your account with this store, and the order is immediately sent to our Paris office. Upon receipt there, shoppers fill these orders at once, delivering same, with our letter and message, to the soldier wherever he may be.

Start Your Order Off As Soon as Possible

This is the safest, surest means of anything reaching the boys in time for Christmas. Delivery is safe and certain. Full particulars will be cheerfully given upon request.

BUSY BEE MUST DO BIT TO HELP BEAT KAISER

Sugar Famine Starts Campaign for More Honey Next Year in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Nov. 30.—A campaign for more honey next year in Indiana to relieve as much as possible the demands on the sugar supply, has been started by Frank N. Wallace, state entomologist, who is in charge of the state's bee inspection department. He says plans for next year's flow of honey should be made now. Telling what should be done he says: "Every beekeeper should pack his bees so that winter losses will be reduced to a minimum. Many keepers lose 10 per cent of their colonies during the winter, which waste can be eliminated by giving them protection from the cold winds. Colonies which are packed properly consume less honey and the beekeepers should remember that it will be impossible to obtain sugar to feed the bees next spring, to carry them until the honey flow starts.

Indiana beekeepers should produce 1,000,000 pounds more honey next year if they will give the bees a little more attention. This would be less than an average increase of ten pounds per colony.

"White clover is in fine condition in almost all parts of the state, and the state entomologist's office will make every effort to help the beekeepers produce the largest crop of honey Indiana ever has produced.

"There is greater shortage of sugar than any other food, and every pound of surplus honey produced will release that much sugar for shipment to the allies."

URGES CHURCHES TO USE WOOD FOR FUEL

Will Save Coal and Has a Few Advantages Says Washington.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—Even the churches, especially in rural sections, can join in the movement to offset the fifty million ton shortage in coal by substituting wood wherever practicable, the department of agriculture and the food administration point out today. Wood has an obvious advantage in heating churches, say the agricultural experts because the heat is required only occasionally and then is wanted quickly in large volume. No other fuel answers that specification so well. The same suggestion is true in lesser degree to rural schools, lodge and grange halls and similar places, the aggregate of whose saving of fuel by use of wood might be considerable. In heating value a cord of the best wood is equal to a ton of hard coal and the same relative value exists between soft coal and some of the softer woods.

The department of agriculture purposes to provide expert forester service to supervise wood cutting to avoid damage to growing timber and broaden the timber outlook.

GERMANS IN NEW ATTACK

Launch Fresh Assault on British in Vicinity of Genelieu.

LITTLE INFANTRY FIGHTING AT NIGHT

British Carry Out Successful
Minor Operation at Bourlon.

British Army Headquarters in France, Nov. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Germans this morning made an attack on the British about Genelieu which is just south of the area included in last week's British offensive. No details of the progress of the enemy assault are available at the time this dispatch is filed (10 a. m.).

There was little infantry fighting during the night but the enemy artillery was very active, especially against Graincourt, Bourlon wood and Marcoling.

A successful minor operation was carried out by the British yesterday between Bourlon wood and Moerwaere by which they advanced their line a few hundred yards and secured a section of the ridge. The attack was met by an exceedingly heavy barrage from the German guns and intense machine gun fire from the direction of Bourlon village.

The assaulting infantry, however, pushed through and this morning the troops were holding the new positions strongly, thereby straightening the line and giving the British command of an important piece of high ground. The enemy attempted a raid to the south of Gavreux which was caught by the British machine gun, rifle and artillery fire and driven off before reaching the trenches.

The weather this morning was favorable to military operations. The day was fine and cold and the roads were so dry that the dust was flying. The British are continuing the digging-in process all along the new front.

QUIET ON FRENCH FRONT.

Paris, Nov. 30.—"The night was calm over the whole front," the war office reports, "except in the Argonne, where the artillery on both sides showed particular activity, and in the region of Chamberettes, where, after a series of violent bombardments, the enemy was repulsed completely."

CROWN PRINCE MAKES ATTACK.

Berlin, Nov. 30.—Storming troops of the German crown prince yesterday made a successful attack against the French positions north of Bray, and captured a number of prisoners, the war office announced today.

NOTHING BIG, SAYS BERLIN.

Berlin, Nov. 30.—The German general staff in its statement regarding the fronts in Russia, Macedonia and northern Italy, says:

"There were no important operations."

NOTHING DOING BY RUSSIA.

Petrograd, Nov. 30.—No statement was issued at the Russian army headquarters according to an official announcement by the war office.

QUIET BEFORE CAMBRAI.

London, Nov. 30.—Comparative quiet still prevails on the front of the British attack before Cambrai, no important operations there being reported in today's official statement.

BRITISH CASUALTIES.

London, Nov. 30.—British casualties reported during the month of October, divided as follows: Officers killed or died of wounds, 1,522; men, 24,292. Officers wounded or missing, 3,537; men, 91,108.

OPERATIONS IN PALESTINE.

London, Nov. 30.—All along the front in Palestine from northwest of Jerusalem to the Mediterranean coast the Turks are making demonstrations but have not affected the British positions, it is announced officially.

CITY SEALER'S REPORT SHOWS MUCH ACTIVITY

Cases for Prosecution Have Decreased, Showing Improvement.

The annual report of C. B. Tolan to State Inspector H. E. Barnard was completed Friday morning. During the year Mr. Tolan has visited 938 places. Of these 31 were coal yards, 2 breweries, 8 junk shops, 203 groceries, 110 filling stations, 3 laundries, 3 flour mills, 232 gardeners' stands and many other places. He has inspected a total of 2,003 scales and out of this number 30 were condemned as useless, 36 were ordered repaired, 291 were adjusted.

He inspected 421 dry measures, of which 9 were found faulty. He inspected 223 pumps, out of which 47 needed adjusting and 3 were condemned. Out of the 9 dry goods stores, whose counter measurement he inspected Mr. Tolan found not an error. There were six prosecutions for short weight, all of which resulted in $10 fines for the defendant.

in Versailles.

Paris, Nov. 30.—The delegates to the inter-allied conference were engaged today with the committee meetings at the various French ministries, there being no general session. The impression is that the important work of the conference will be transacted by these committees, the proceedings of which are entirely secret.

The American members are expected to exercise great influence in bringing about closer unity. They are pleased with the cordial and receptive manner in which their suggestions thus far have been received.

The committee meetings probably will continue for three days more. It was announced officially today that the supreme war council will begin its sittings at Versailles at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. It will be attended by Premier Lloyd George and General Wilson for Great Britain; Premier Clemenceau and General Foch for France; Premier Orlando and General Cadorna for Italy, and Colonel House and General Bliss for the United States.

While this body is an advisory body for the formulation of strategic plans operations on the western front, including Italy, it is expected its suggestions will bear great weight with the commanders of the allied armies and will result in that unity of control which is so much desired.

PROMOTIONS AT THE TRACTION CAR SHOPS

Fred Bade is Made General
Foreman and Ervin Gardner Assistant.

W. A. Redderson, superintendent of motive power of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company, announced Friday that the appointment of Fred Bade to the position of general foreman of the local car shops, and the position of assistant general foreman to Ervin W. Gardner, formerly chief electrician in the shops. These appointments will take place tomorrow, December 1.

These appointments came through the resignation of Otis R. Hill, formerly general foreman of the shops, who left the duties of foreman August 27, upon receiving his appointment to the officers' training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison. Mr. Hill gave his resignation August 27 and abandoned the idea of going back Thanksgiving day.

Fred Bade has been in the employ of this company for the past fifteen years, during the greater part of that time serving as car repairman. He received promotion a year ago to assistant foreman and has further promotion comes in recognition for the years of efficient service he has given the company.

The new assistant foreman has been in the employ of the company since December, 1914, and has acted during that time as chief electrician. He came to Fort Wayne from the Illinois traction system, stationed at Decatur.

REPEAT IN ITALY THE ATROCITIES BELGIANS KNEW

Washington, Nov. 30.—All the oppressive measures which characterized the German invasion of Belgium and many of the acts of barbarism which revolted the civilized world, say semi-official dispatches from Rome today, are now being repeated by the Austro-German invaders of Italy.

Near Zenson, the dispatches say, the invaders placed Italian women and children before their troops as they advanced and the Italian soldiers were compelled to sacrifice their innocent countrymen.

In the Friuli region war taxes, requisitions and conscription of labor is being practiced as it was in Belgium and northern France. Austro-German prisoners tell of Italian non-combatants massacred by the invading troops and looted from Italian homes and shops had been found on the dead bodies of the troops. Soldiers of the Piave declare they heard screams of women and children from the opposite side of the river. The invading armies have taken away cattle and other property and burned household furniture for their bivouac fires at night.

Danish troops, the dispatches say, have committed unnamable atrocities.

LETTER FROM MORIARITY.

Friends are in receipt of a postcard from Lieut. H. C. Moriarity, of Battery B, now in France. He writes that the Fort Wayne boys are nicely housed in a cantonment camp near a city of 30,000 population.

MILITARY NEWS

ENLIST YOUR LENS
FOR ACTIVE SERVICE
Government Has Crying
Need for Certain Type of Camera Lenses.

Another opportunity is given to the people of Fort Wayne to be of service to the United States government in the great war. The latest call is for camera lenses, the stopping of Germany's output making the supply far beneath the demand. There are many cameras in Fort Wayne which are not being used at the present time and many more which are used for pleasure only, the lenses of which would be a decided aid to the boys at the front. The communication from headquarters reads as follows:

"People of the United States are asked to help the signal corps of the army get lenses enough for cameras for the fleet of observation airplanes now being built. The need is immediate and of great importance; the camera lens is the eye of the army."

"German lenses can no longer be bought in the open market. England had to meet this same difficulty in the earlier stages of the war by purchasing the lenses of the required type from individual owners. England is now making lenses better than the German ones formerly imported, but no faster than needed for her own uses. The bureau of standards of the United States department of commerce is now perfecting a substitute for the German 'crown barium' glass used for lenses and American manufacturers will later be able to meet the needs with special lenses of new and improved types now being designed for this work."

"The present situation, however, is that with airplanes soon to be ready for service, suitable lenses cannot be bought. Possessors of the required types are urged to do their bit by enlisting their lenses in the service of the army. They are asked to immediately notify the photographic division of the signal corps, U. S. A., Mills Building Annex, Washington, D. C., of lenses of the following description, which they are willing to sell, stating price asked: 'Tessar Anastigmat Lenses made by Carl Zeiss, Jena, of a working aperture of F. 3.5 or F. 4.5, from 8 1/4 to 20 inch focal length.'

"Bausch & Lomb Zeiss Tessars, F. 4.5, from 8 1/4 to 20 inch focal length. 'Voigtlander Heliar Anastigmat Lenses, F. 4.5, 8 1/4 to 2 inch focal length. 'Practically all of the lenses of these types in America will be required, but 8 1/4 inch lenses are most urgently needed. '8, 9, 12 and 14 inch condensers are wanted; also, a number of Bausch & Lomb Zeiss Protars VII A No. 13, preferably set in Volute shutters."

FORT WAYNE AVIATOR READY FOR SERVICE

Injuries Which Prevented
Earlier Enlistment Now
Entirely Healed.

Art Smith, Fort Wayne's bird boy, who returned two weeks ago from Japan, spent Thanksgiving day in this city and left with his mother for Chicago, where he will hold a conference with several United States army officers. Smith is at present a member of the reserve and has kept in touch with the government while in Japan. He will report at Washington on December 5.

A number of erroneous reports have been circulated that the aviator was a stinker but the bird boy waived aside all such suggestions by stating that it was impossible for him to go into the service until he had fully recovered from a broken limb. He has kept the government notified of his location and has been ready to report when he was wanted. While in Japan, Smith made a number of inventions which will be used by the government, and it is for the purpose of explaining these inventions that he is called to Washington on December 5.

OLIVER SAYLER IN MOSCOW SUBUR.

Huntington, Ind., Nov. 30.—Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Sayler were not alarmed Wednesday when news dispatches reported fighting in Moscow, although they have learned through the state department that their son, Oliver Sayler, dramatic editor of the Indianapolis News, is in Bapetu, a suburb of that city. All Americans have been reported safe and in the fighting persons of other nations have been respected by the Russian revolutionists, it was said.

HOME FOR THANKSGIVING.

Huntington, Ind., Nov. 30.—Mr. and Mrs. John W. Weaver hurriedly ordered a turkey for Thanksgiving dinner when they learned late Wednesday that their son, Sergeant Theron P. Weaver, of the First Alabama infantry band, and his wife, would arrive in time for the dinner. Sergeant Weaver had not expected to get away, and his family had abandoned all festal plans.

Ft. Wayne Boy at Camp Logan, Texas

EDMUND J. HOLOCHER.

Edmund J. Holocher, first class private, Battery C, 82 Field Artillery, now stationed at Camp Logan, Texas, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Holocher, 629 East Jefferson street. He enlisted May 7 and was sent to Fort Thomas, Ky., later going to Fort Russell, Wyoming, and then was transferred to the south. He is 19 years of age and before he enlisted to serve his Uncle Sam worked for the American Express company as a transferer.

FORMER FORT WAYNE BOY COMMISSIONED

Son of Rev. J. S. Ainslie is Made First Lieutenant of Artillery.

James Elliot Ainslie, second son of Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Ainslie, of Chicago, formerly of this city, has just received a commission of first lieutenant of artillery at the close of the three months' intensive training of reserve officers at the Fort Sheridan training camp.

This camp was composed of 4,000 candidates selected from 20,000 applicants. Five hundred of these were sifted out in the first few weeks and 500 more failed to qualify for commissions. The young officer has two weeks' leave to be with his wife and babies at St. Louis, and on Dec. 15 will report for duty at Camp Lee, in Virginia. Dr. Ainslie has two sons-in-law, one of whom is a Canadian army now on the firing line in Flanders.

Rev. Dr. Ainslie will be well remembered in Fort Wayne, where for ten years—from 1890 to 1900—he was pastor of Plymouth Congregational church. Lieut. Ainslie was born here, and has many friends in Fort Wayne.

FOR OFFICERS' CAMP.

Capt. E. H. Killbourne is examining from fifteen to twenty applications for entrance into the signal corps and third officers' training camp at Fort Grant, Rockford, Ill., in his headquarters at the Commercial club. The applications will open January 5, and applications cannot be received later than December 1. Signal corps applications will be received until further orders, the examining board, however, advises those desiring commissions in this branch of the service to file their papers immediately. It is necessary that the applicant have a college education or such an equivalent in technical training for the applicant seeking admission into the training camps. Concordia college has a quota of twenty in the Rockford school. The normal strength of this school will be 440 students.

LIEUT. BINDER HOME.

Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 30.—Lieut. Homer Binder, who recently received his commission at Fort Sheridan, is home for a few days. He will go to Fort Sill, Okla., in a few days to join the Ninth artillery, and he expects soon to see service in France. Capt. Phil McNaghy, who received his commission last August at the first officers' school at Fort Harrison, Indianapolis, and who is entrusted the rookies at the second school there, is also home for several days, and he has been assigned to Fort Thomas, Ky. Second Lieutenant Harvey S. Hoshour, who received his commission at Fort Snelling, is the guest of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Hoshour, of the Grace Lutheran parsonage.

INSANITY IS LADY'S PLEA

Mrs. De Saulles Did Not Know It Was Wrong to Kill Husband is Urged.

EXPERTS GO TO BAT FOR PRETTY SLAYER

Hypothetical Question of 15,000 Words Submitted to Mental Sharps.

Mineola, N. Y., Nov. 30.—Mrs. Bianca De Saulles was not mentally sound, did not know "the nature or quality of the act," and did not know "that it was wrong" when she shot her former husband, John L. De Saulles at his Long Island home, according to experts who testified today in her behalf.

This opinion was given in response to a 15,000 word hypothetical question put by attorneys for the defense. It, in brief, summoned up the evidence given during the trial by witnesses for the defendant. It recited each occurrence and circumstance during Mrs. De Saulles' life, which her attorneys maintained may have influenced her mind on the night of August 3, the time of the shooting at "the box," De Saulles' home near Westbury.

To brain pressure resulting from a skull fracture received in childhood and to hypothyroidism, a disease of the thyroid gland, which affects the brain and nerve centers, was ascribed Mrs. De Saulles' alleged lapse of accountability. It was during the "blank space" that the defendant claims she fired the revolver which shot her husband.

Because District Attorney Charles R. Weeks did not approve of the framing of the hypothetical question put by Mrs. De Saulles' attorneys he served notice that he would prepare one to his own liking which he will submit to alienists called in by the state. This expected to lengthen the taking of testimony considerably and it is believed the examination of expert witnesses will not be ended before Monday or Tuesday.

It was pointed out that by the New York laws no person shall be convicted of a crime committed while the defendant was suffering from such a defective reason as not to know "the nature and quality of the act or as not to know that it was wrong."

HELD UP ON SHIPMENT BECAUSE OF BOXES

Car Ready for Delivery But No Containers.

The local Red Cross warehouse has another car of supplies ready for shipment, but it is delayed because of the lack of boxes for packing. As soon as an adequate supply can be obtained the car will be shipped. Large shipments were received Friday morning from Valparaiso, Crown Point and Delphi.

A number of local Red Cross leaders will go to New Haven Friday night to attend the corn festival. Those in the party will be E. Paul Mossman, Harry Miller, Mrs. Allen Hamilton and Mrs. Robert Harding. These leaders will speak on different Red Cross activities.

SAYS MRS. KING COULD NOT HAVE SHOT SELF

Concord, N. C., Nov. 30.—Dr. W. H. Burmeister, coroner's physician of Cook county, Illinois, testifying for the state, on cross examination in the trial of Gaston R. Means, charged with the murder of Mrs. Maude A. King, today said that the pistol that inflicted the wound causing Mrs. King's death, was not in contact with the head when fired. E. T. Custer, of counsel for the defense, brought from the witness repeated and emphatic declarations that his opinion that it would have been a physical impossibility for a woman of Mrs. King's stoutness to hold a pistol in the position necessary to have caused the wound. Cross examination of Dr. Burmeister was continued by the state of Mrs. Anna L. Robinson, mother of Mrs. King. Dr. Otto Schultze of New York, was called to the stand shortly before noon.

F. S. HUNTING ADDRESSES QUEST CLUB MEMBERS

The Quest club held an interesting session Friday noon at the Commercial club. The roll call was taken and it was found that the largest attendance in the history of the club was present. The principal address was made by F. S. Hunting. He spoke on "The Personal Relation of the Employer and the Employee." In his address he dwelt extensively on the work that the General Electric company is doing along this line. Outlining the various enterprises of the company, he pointed out the importance of the work.

SENSATION IN THE SAXON LOWER HOUSE

Socialist Deputy Startles the Diet With a Sudden Disclosure.

Dresden, Saxony, Thursday, Nov. 29.—Via London, Nov. 30.—During the budget debate today, the lower house of the Saxon diet, Deputy Fleissner, a socialist, made a severe attack on the German foreign policy and said he had in his possession a copy of a treaty signed by Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, former German foreign secretary, which, if it had been drawn up and signed within the limits of the empire, would have been equivalent to high treason.

The deputy's assertion caused some excitement especially in view of his offer to read the treaty in open session. The president of the chamber asked to see the document, which he turned over to Count von Zitzum, Saxon foreign minister. The count made the following declaration:

"I have not discovered anything in the document which would incriminate German diplomacy or could be construed as not permissible. I am unable to vouch for the genuineness of the treaty and confine myself to stating that the document concerns a treaty concluded during the war and is directed against a power which is at war with us, and therefore recommends only such measures as correspond with war time usages and international law. I emphatically reject as wholly unfounded the speaker's reproach of former Secretary Zimmermann."

NATIONAL SECURITY LEAGUE WANTS ACTION

Mayor Receives Letter Urging the Discharge of Unpatriotic Teachers.

Mayor W. J. Hosey is in receipt of a letter from the National Security league asking him to co-operate with regards to impressing the public with the country's attitude towards Germany in the war. The following resolutions, which were adopted at a recent meeting in New York, were sent to the mayor and to every school official in the city:

"Whereas, wars are now waged not only by armies, but also entire peoples, and it is the spirit of the peoples of the allied nations which must win victories, we look with grave concern upon the alleged seditious views of certain teachers as a menace to the lives of our men in the army and navy."

"Resolved, That as a national necessity and as a war measure, we call upon every board of education, school commissioner and school committee to put into the curriculum of the schools, without delay, as a part of each day's actual tuition, the facts showing why we are at war with Germany, the danger of failure to this country and the duty of every loyal American to support the conduct of the war and to give absolute service."

"Resolved, That without prejudicing the actions or views of any particular teacher or reflecting upon the vast majority of our teachers who are loyal, we urge upon the boards of education of all cities to remove from their teaching staff forthwith any teacher who has proven unsupporting to the conduct of the war and the upholding of the government."

ROBERT D. EVANS.

Appointed Secretary of Water Works Department.

Robert D. Evans, an expert accountant, employed for several years with the Rinesmith & Simonson company, was notified Friday of his appointment as secretary of the water works department, through the board of works. Mr. Evans will assume his duties when Sherman Cutshall's administration takes charge of the city hall on January 7. Mr. Evans is a Fort Wayne man and received his education in the local grammar and high schools. He will succeed Charles H. Evans, who has held the position under Mayor Hosey.

PROCEEDS GETTING LOW.

The city court is suffering in a decided manner from the advanced price of liquor. Only $623 was taken during the month of November of this year, in comparison with $1,127 taken in during the same month last year. Probably when the state goes dry this city court will not even be self-supporting, but will be forced to thrive on endowments made by temperance organizations.

HOPE BOLSHEVIKI WILL BE BEATEN

America May Not Subscribe to Harsh Measures by Ally Conference.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The American government is shaping what is described as a "policy" in dealing with Russia in her present straits, so as to show hope for the ultimate triumph of a sane democracy.

It was declared today that even should the Bolsheviks conclude an armistice with Germany there is no present intention to broadly list Russia as an enemy. The American government is anxious to have all the people of Russia know its attitude. Contracts for supplies of material for Russia, it was said, would go forward as usual, in the hope that they would be applied to the cause of world democracy.

It was pointed out again, however, that these are under control at all times and can be prevented from falling into hostile hands.

In view of the attitude expressed here it appears that should the inter-allied war council at Paris decide to send what has been described as a threatening communication to Russia, the American delegates might not subscribe to it.

Of course, their action will be finally determined by the nature of the communication which may be sent. Officials here base their position upon the premise that while the Bolshevik faction is working for a separate peace without regard for the opinion of the remainder of Russia, a great part of the country is not in accord with their aims and the success of the Bolsheviks by no means is wholly assured.

The hope that the conservative elements may gain ascendancy over the Bolsheviks has not been abandoned, and in the event of the restoration of Russia the United States would wish to be in the position of having taken an attitude against her.

In the question of control of shipments the government will be guided largely by Ambassador Bannhmette, who has already disavowed the Bolsheviks and in the case of the restoration would recommend the stopping of supplies if they were to fall into hostile hands.

FORTY-SEVEN APPLY FOR LIQUOR LICENSES

They Will Be Awarded by County Commissioners
Next Monday.

Forty-seven have determined to stay in the business until Indiana goes dry and have made application with the commissioners for the renewal of their licenses to April 2, 1918, at 12 p. m., at which time Indiana's prohibition law becomes effective unless declared unconstitutional by the supreme court. The fee for the December licenses is $65.71. The licenses will be granted by the commissioners next Monday.

Opening Display and Sale FURNITURE for CHRISTMAS

Best of all Gifts

Make This a Furniture Christmas

Christmas giving is going to be a bit different this year. The little cheer-up knick-knacks and novelties, tidbits and notions with which we have been in the habit of showering each other should and undoubtedly will be given to our soldier boys instead. Let us show our appreciation to them by brightening their Christmas with the things that comfort and cheer fellows who are far from the family Christmas tree. Trinkets and baubles for the children as usual, certainly. But let your gift for mother or father, husband or wife be the most practical, useful thing you can think of. Try to think of something that he really needs and would sooner or later have to buy. Choose a gift that will become a part of the home, so that many can enjoy its usefulness and comfort.

Have you caught the spirit of giving furniture gifts for Christmas? It is a sensible sentiment. You yourself appreciate most of all a gift that gives pleasure, not merely for a moment—or a month—but for years—a lifetime. So why not present to your friends and dear ones gifts which will outlive passing fads and fancies—such gifts as only good furniture—Indiana furniture—makes?

Sensible women give men big easy chairs, handy bookcases, reading lamps, foot stools, smoking sets and things like that. Wise men choose for women dainty boudoir sets, dining room suites, beautiful lamps and shades, electric vacuum sweepers and so on. Families are all chipping in to buy davenport, rugs, library tables, period suites, etc.

Now is the time to do painless Christmas shopping. Our fine stock is ready—our floors are not uncomfortably crowded yet—our salespeople are free to devote their undivided attention to you. Why not come in this week and be through with it? Let us lay away your selections for Christmas delivery, just as we are doing for so many others.

CLUB WOMEN OF INDIANA AID FUEL SAVING WORK

Committee Appointed at Recent Convention Here
Sends Appeal.

Indianapolis, Nov. 29.—(Special)—Mrs. Felix T. McWhirter, of Indianapolis; Mrs. Alvin Fellows Bacon, of Evansville; Mrs. Walter B. Fullert, of New Albany; Mrs. John S. Paxson, of South Bend; and Mrs. A. E. Fauve, of Fort Wayne, the committee appointed by the convention of the State Federation of Women's clubs, recently held in Fort Wayne, has sent out an appeal to the president of every woman's club in Indiana, asking that officer to enlist the women of the state in the campaign for fuel conservation.

Prominent in this appeal is the suggestion that women cease to be "gaudy" and wear warmer clothes so that the furnace won't have to be kept so hot to keep the dear women warm.

The circular suggests the following: That wood be used as fuel whenever possible.

That the heated rooms in every home be reduced to those necessary to the household's needs.

That women dress warmer.

That electric lights be turned off when not in use and that the maximum use be made of the "summer" on the gas range.

That clubs, churches, organizations, etc., avoid the heating of large auditoriums when possible, by holding their meetings in private residences.

That those who can afford to buy high priced coal buy it and thereby release the cheaper coal to families less able to buy.

The club women in each county co-operate with the fuel administrator.

That club women urge the cause of fuel conservation through newspaper interviews and articles.

FINAL DAY OF NEW HAVEN'S ANNUAL FARM PRODUCTS AND POULTRY EXHIBITION

The fifth annual exhibition of farm products and poultry will be concluded at New Haven, Friday. The exhibition opened Monday and a good attendance has been present every day. An interesting program has been arranged for Friday evening, a feature of which will be a lecture on fruit raising by R. Whitney, a successful fruit expert.

The exhibition which includes corn, small grain, vegetables, root crops, apples, plums, pears, peaches, grapes, potatoes and other products, is adjudged one of the best ever held. In his talk Tuesday, Prof. A. T. Wiggins, of Purdue university, commended the people of this district for the interest they have taken in the exhibition and stated that it was one of the finest and most complete he had ever seen.

The following committee was placed in charge of the affair and will look after the returning of the exhibits at the closing of the show today: Herman Lutz, president; William Harper, vice president; C. F. Moon, secretary; Willard Lucas, treasurer; I. B. Sleet, E. E. Harper and P. M. Griffin have charge of the poultry department.

THE DEATHS.

BERNARD B. RICHTER DIES AT HOSPITAL

Employed for Thirty-Five Years as Coppersmith for Pennsy.

Bernard B. Richter, age 59, who had been a resident of Fort Wayne for more than half a century, passed away at 9 o'clock Friday morning at the St. Joseph's hospital after a long illness. Mr. Richter was employed by the Pennsylvania company as a coppersmith for more than thirty-five years.

The deceased was born in Louisville, Ky., and moved to Fort Wayne with his parents, when but six years old, and resided here until the time of his death. When a young man he took employment at the Pennsylvania and remained there until he was forced to quit work because of ill health. He was married thirty-four years ago to Miss Josephine Suthoff and one son was born to their union. Mr. Richter was a member of the Precious Blood Catholic church and the Pennsylvania Volunteer Relief association. Surviving are the widow and one son, Joseph A. Richter. Funeral arrangements will be made later.

BAUMAN.

Mrs. Lucile Bauman, age 27, 2008 Gay street, died at 4:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of her father after suffering for the past four months with complications of diseases. She is survived by a husband, a 4-year-old son, Ralph, her parents and the following brothers and sisters: John, Frank and Herman Williams, of Fort Wayne; Mrs. Elaine Casebeer, Chicago, and Misses Esther and Helen Williams, of Fort Wayne. The deceased was a member of the St. Peter's Catholic church.

HOLLE.

Frederick Holle, age 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Holle, 87, of Union township, Adams county, died Thursday afternoon at the Lutheran hospital of pneumonia. The remains were prepared for burial and taken to the home in Union township by Wellman & Unger. Surviving are the parents, one brother, Louis, and three sisters, Mrs. A. H. Gerke, Mrs. H. Heckman and Mrs. Dornseif, all of Adams county.

LAUER.

Lillian Lauer, age 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Lauer, 1178 Hanna street, died Thursday at the family home, due to a brief illness from pneumonia. The death was a shock and entirely unexpected, as the child had been recovering. She was a student at the St. Mary's high school and was liked and respected by all her classmates. Surviving are the parents, one sister, Thelma, and two brothers, Paul and Clarence. The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 9:30 from the home and the services will be private. Interment in the Catholic cemetery.

PETERS.

Mrs. Louise Peters, age 56, colored, wife of Simon Peters, residing at 1203 Thayer street, died Wednesday night at the home following a long illness. The deceased has been a member of the Mt. Olive Baptist church for a number of years. Surviving are the husband and five children.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Mt. Olive Baptist church, with Rev. Jordan officiating. Interment in Lindenwood cemetery.

Funeral Announcements.

Schwier—The funeral of Elsie Schwier will be held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the residence, 821 Milton avenue, and at 2 o'clock from the Zion Lutheran church, Rev. Mr. Luehr officiating. Interment in Concordia cemetery.

SOCIETY

Watkins—Schaefer. The marriage of Miss Louise Schaefer and Mr. Shirley Watkins took place on Thanksgiving morning in Rome City at the parsonage of the German Lutheran church. Relatives from this city accompanied the bride and groom to Rome City and saw the young couple off on their wedding trip to Chicago afterwards. In Chicago Mr. and Mrs. Watkins will visit a brother to the groom and on their return will be guests at the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dell Watkins, in Rome City. Mr. Watkins attended Business college here and both he and his bride have held positions with the General Electric company. They will reside in this city.

ADDITIONAL CHURCHES

BUSINESS GIRLS' LEAGUE. The Business Girls' study class will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the lecture room of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Cole will talk on "The Possible Attitude of Christian Women Toward the War." This is a question of vital interest to every woman, and all members are especially urged to be present and bring a friend if possible.

Immediately following the study period the Business Girls will devote themselves to Red Cross work. Much interest is being manifested in this work, and Miss Olive Schofield, chairman of the social service committee, hopes that much will be accomplished during the winter season.

Mrs. Chalmers Watson, M. D., was the highest rank held by any woman in the British army. She has been appointed chief controller of the Women's Army Auxiliary corps, giving her chief command of the thousands of women working behind the lines in France. She is a sister of Sir Eric Geddes, admiralty chief. She was the first woman physician graduated from Edinburgh university.

CHIHUAHUA ATTACK DELAYED.

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 30.—Fear of an attack upon Chihuahua City by Villa followers has been allayed for the present by telegrams of assurance which have been received here by business men having connections in the Chihuahua state capital. Villa's reported presence in the Santa Clara country, 75 miles northwest of Chihuahua City, was taken here today to indicate that he is resting his men after the long Olimpia campaign before undertaking another movement against Chihuahua City.

ANOTHER SECRET TREATY PRINTED BY BOLSHEV'KIS

London, Nov. 30.—A secret treaty between Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy has been given out by the Bolshevik government, according to a Petrograd dispatch under date of Wednesday to the Daily Mail. It comprises the terms of which Italy entered the war. Great Britain, France and Russia, according to the published text, agrees to Italy annexing the Trentino, the southern Tyrol, Istria, Dalmatia, certain islands in the Grecian archipelago and territory in Asia Minor and Africa. Article XV of the treaty is reported to read as follows: "France, Great Britain and Russia take upon themselves to support Italy in her disallowing representatives of the holy see to take any diplomatic steps for the conclusion of peace or regarding matters pertaining to the present war."

NEW ST. MARY'S CLUB.

The St. Mary's club, successor of the St. Mary's Athletic club, was formally opened Thursday afternoon and evening in the handsomely redecorated clubrooms at Jefferson and Lafayette streets. The following officers were elected: Miss Gertrude Kocks, vice president; Miss Marie C. App, financial secretary; Miss Marie Herber, recording secretary; Gerald H. P. Halstein, treasurer.

LIVE STOCK EXCHANGE KICKS.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—The Chicago Live Stock exchange today petitioned the interstate commerce commission to prevent the railroads from passing on to live stock shippers a 25 cent increase in loading and unloading charges recently put into effect by the stock yards company. Early investigation of the entire question of loading rates was asked.

LABOR STANDARDS MUST BE KEPT UP IT IS FOUND

Warring Countries of Europe Are Restoring Them After Relaxation.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Labor standards, which were relaxed at the beginning of hostilities when mobilization made necessary the recruiting of women and children for work usually performed by the men, are being restored in countries and strengthen in others, according to information complied by the Children's Bureau of Labor and made public today.

"Experience proved that the relaxing of standards failed of its purpose," says the report. "Definite steps were taken by the governments to restore the provisions of the labor law, because they were found to be essential not only to the conservation of the available workers, but to the quantity and the quality of their output."

Increase in the number of women and children workers, according to the report, has made more widespread and serious the effects of relaxing employment standards. In France Germany and Italy there has been a great increase of home work on government contracts, "with its customary evils of long hours and low wages." In Russia, school attendance has been more irregular than usual because of work children must do at home and in the fields. High wages for boys in unskilled occupations, thereby drawing them from school, and an increase of young boys in street trades were reported in England.

The most general loosening of restrictions and woman and child labor was found to have been lengthening of hours of work, including night work and Sunday work. There has also been a lowering of the age requirement for children entering industry and women and young persons have been employed in dangerous industries or heavy work formerly prohibited by law, such as in powder plants and coal mines.

"The point which stands out unmistakably from the foreign experience," the report continues, "is the general realization that the labor standards achieved in times of peace are none too high to promote the efficiency of work, the intensity of output and the general level of health which are absolutely essential to the nation's welfare in war time.

"In practically all countries some movement for restoring standards is reported; in England, France, and Italy official action has been taken. From these countries and others come reports of dissatisfaction of the workers and testimony of physicians concerning the effects of excessive hours. The greater efficiency of a reasonable working day is mentioned frequently."

England and France have gone even further than the restoration of old standards and are planning new systems of continuation schools and additional opportunities for industrial education. Part-time school attendance of boys and girls now exempt from compulsory attendance laws will be required. In England it is recommended that the school leaving age be raised to 14 years without exemptions and that all other young people under the age 18 be enrolled in part-time classes. France proposes to require part-time attendance of girls under 20, after they have finished the prescribed number of years of full attendance.

There has been no weakening of labor laws affecting women and children in Canada or New Zealand, and Manitoba has reduced overtime permitted to women and girls. The report adds: "It is hoped that the report will call attention to the growing concern in the warring countries for the welfare of children and the earnest efforts now being made in the midst of war to improve their condition, and that it will aid in showing not only the importance of maintaining here all the present industrial protection afforded to women and children, but of carrying their protection forward notwithstanding war conditions."

WORKING RESERVE MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the committee at the head of the United States boys' working reserve Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Commercial club. The purpose of the meeting is to organize a drive to see the parents of each of the boys enrolled and arouse interest in the work of seeing that the people of the country are well fed. A leader in the movement stated that it would be impossible to win the war without food, and it is for the purpose of planning the situation that the meeting will be held.

RAILROAD NEWS. MANAGEMENT OF LINES WEST HAS BEEN CHANGED

Pennsylvania Road Makes
Announcement of the Consolidation.

The publication department of the Pennsylvania railroad at Philadelphia has issued a statement for the newspapers covering the changes affecting the lines west of Pittsburgh, a brief telegraphic account of which appeared in The Sentinel last Wednesday. The statement is as follows:

"The directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and of the Pennsylvania company yesterday took the first step to effect a closer unity between the lines east and west of Pittsburgh. Both companies have agreed, subject to the consent required from some of the state commissions, to transfer the leases and other operating agreements of the western lines now held by the Pennsylvania company to the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

"The later company will then directly operate the lines now operated by the Pennsylvania company and the present experienced organization west of Pittsburgh will continue to conduct the operation of the western lines in the name of the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

"The Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad company is not included in the foregoing arrangement.

"All of the capital stock of the Pennsylvania company is owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad company and all of its bonds are guaranteed by the latter company.

"Under the plan suggested the capital stock of the Pennsylvania company will ultimately be surrendered and cancelled excepting such amount as may be deemed essential to preserve the charter of the Pennsylvania company until it is decided to dissolve it.

"The Pennsylvania company has an interesting history. It was incorporated under the law of Pennsylvania in 1870, with the powers of a holding company to take charge of the management and development of the Pennsylvania Railroad company of the several lines west of Pittsburgh leased or owned by the latter company, notably the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway company, Erie and Pittsburgh Railroad company, Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad company and various other lines.

"Following the policy pursued by the Pennsylvania Railroad company to eliminate unnecessary duplication and to give its lines the additional strength and credit of the parent company, i. e. The Pennsylvania Railroad company. The vice presidents, officers and employees of the Pennsylvania company were today appointed to similar position with the Pennsylvania Railroad company effective January 1, 1918, and will discharge the same duties as there now performed for the Pennsylvania company in the management and operation of the Western lines.

"The titles of the new vice presidents will be: J. J. Turner, senior vice president with general supervision of all departments of the Western lines; E. B. Taylor, vice president in charge of finances and accounting; D. T. McCabe, vice president in charge of traffic; G. L. Peck, vice president in charge of operations."

HITS ELECTRICAL SIGNS.

Consumption of Coal for Illuminating Them Is Curtailed.

The order to curtail the fuel supply for the purpose of running electrically illuminated signs hits a number of concerns in the city. Signs cannot be illuminated only between the hours of 7:45 p. m. and 11 p. m. hereafter except in the interior of buildings. The order does not apply, however, to the maintenance of lights on the streets. It affects the big G. E. signs among other similarly illuminated signs in this city, it is said. The ruling reads as follows:

"This order shall not apply to porch lights upon houses or hotels, or at the entrance to buildings occupied or open for ingress or egress during the night time, or to lights upon private driveways, walks or in the grounds of any hotel, manufactory, establishment or residence, or upon the platform of railroad stations, approaches thereto, or in the railroad yards or grounds, or to lights to mark the location of fire escapes or exits."

FITTING UP NEW OFFICES.

East End of Abandoned Wabash Depot Being Rebuilt.

Only a portion of the old building at the corner of the Wabash tracks and Calhoun street, which served a half century as a passenger station, is to be demolished. Carpenter Foreman H. Werts and a gang of men are at work in overhauling the east fifty feet of the building and when they complete the work it will be the official home of the yardmaster, the conductor's room and the headquarters of the local signal department room. The portion affected by the improvement served as the ladies' waiting room, the ticket office and a portion of the gents' waiting room before the handsome new passenger station was erected on the west side of Calhoun street. The parts of the old building to be torn down were in former days used as a baggage room, a mail room and the Wells Fargo Express room.

THROWN OFF MOTORCYCLE.

J. E. Niebel, formerly employed in the final assembling department of the Bowser works, had a bad spill with his motorcycle early Friday morning, at the corner of Lafayette and Williams street. Mr. Niebel, who has resigned his position at Bowser's, was making preparations to move to Columbia City, where he is going to take up the management of the Burget jewelry store. With him at the time of the accident was his brother, R. J. Niebel. Outside of a few bruises no serious injuries were sustained.

FORMER FORT WAYNE MAN IS PROMOTED

Henry Eisele is Superintendent of Big Wabash Shops at Decatur.

Henry Eisele, who a few years ago was general foreman of the local Wabash shops, has received the appointment of superintendent of the works at Decatur, Ill., the largest shops on the Wabash system, which give employment to upwards of 800 men. The appointment becomes effective tomorrow, December 1. Mr. Eisele succeeds William Canavan, who has resigned to take the superintendency of a big steel plant. Mr. Eisele has been general foreman of the Decatur shops ever since they were opened to business. When he went to that city for that purpose he was followed by a number of other Wabash employees, including Ed Hausbach, who was soon afterwards appointed machine shop foreman. There will be a number of other changes as a result of the one mentioned and it is said that Mr. Hausbach may be one of the beneficiaries, probably succeeding Mr. Eisele as general foreman. Other changes to become effective in the motive power department of the Wabash tomorrow will be the retirement of J. H. Davey as master mechanic at Moberly and the appointment of L. K. Smith as master mechanic of that division. It is announced that Mr. Dacey has been assigned to other duties. Mr. Smith is a brother of Master Mechanic G. W. Smith, of this city, and some years ago worked in the local shops awhile and became quite well known to the employees. He has been employed in different capacities at different times on the western branches of the system.

HORSE KILLED ON TRACKS.

A horse belonging to David Plummer, of Atwood, Ind., was killed and the buggy the animal was attached to was demolished by some Pennsylvania train a short distance east of Etna Green some time last night. The animal had been driven to Etna Green by Ed Plummer, a young son of the owner of the rig, who says that it disappeared from the hitching post to which he tied it at 10:30 o'clock last night. The dead animal and the buggy were discovered by some track walkers at 3 o'clock this morning and it is supposed the accident occurred a short time before that hour. Young Plummer was in the Etna Green passenger station at 3 o'clock this morning and stated that he had spent the night in looking for the horse. It is not known what train hit the horse.

LIKES SOUTHERN CLIMATE.

F. Rothenberger, tinner at the Pennsylvania, who is spending a vacation in the south, writes to his associates that he likes the weather down south. Mr. Rothenberger, who is making Montgomery, Ala., his headquarters, intends to make a trip to Camp Sherman, where he has several friends located who are in training.

EARLY MORNING BLAZE CONSUMES TWO CARS

Tramp is Believed to Have Been Cause of Fire—Loss Not Known.

Two freight cars stored on a siding about one and a half miles north of this city on the New York Central were consumed by fire early this morning. The fire, it is thought, was started by some wayfarer who had built a fire in an empty car to warm himself. The blaze was not discovered until after it had gained a considerable headway and consumed the greater part of two cars. A third car loaded with acid and consigned to the Fort Wayne Drug Co. was saved by being pulled away from the two burning ones. One of the cars lost was an empty and the lading of the other was empty beer bottles and kegs consigned to the Berghoff Brewing Co. The loss sustained was not obtainable, although it is not considered to be very great by officials of the road.

CHANGE IN GATEKEEPER AT G. E.

William Hassert, who has presided as watchman at the Fairfield avenue entrance to the General Electric works for several months, has resigned and tomorrow will be his last day at the plant. It is understood that he has accepted a similar position at the plant of S. F. Bowser & Company. Charles Ditzman, who has been a watchman in Building No. 19 ever since that building was opened to operations, will succeed Mr. Hassert.

INSTALLING AIRBRAKE PLANT.

George Swart, foreman of the Wabash airbrake department, is at Montpelier with some assistants installing apparatus for testing and repairing airbrakes in the company's shops. The work will probably consume two weeks. The company never did airbrake repairs at Montpelier, but hereafter that work will be accomplished in the shops in that city instead of taking it elsewhere.

NOT BADLY HURT.

George Yoder and L. L. Taylor, the Crestline men who were injured on a crossing at Bucyrus Wednesday night by their automobile being struck by a Pennsylvania freight train, were not hurt as badly as reported. They are still in the hospital at Bucyrus, but will be able to go home soon. There were five young men in the auto when the accident happened, but all escaped except Yoder and Taylor.

HOLIDAY TRAVEL HEAVY.

All the railroads report a good passenger business yesterday. All trains were crowded and some had extra cars. A few trains were operated in two sections, notably the Manhattan Limited, No. 33, eastbound through Fort Wayne at 1:04 o'clock in the afternoon.

BROADWAY LIMITED IS ON LAST TRIP

Famous Train Will Be Taken Out of Service When Terminals Are Reached

The Broadway limited, the highest speeded and most magnificent appointed passenger train to cross Indiana on the Pennsylvania lines, is on its last trip today. Eastbound this train, which is known by the railway men as No. 28, left Chicago on its last trip this afternoon, and its companion, No. 29, left the New York terminal today on its last trip and will pass through Fort Wayne tomorrow morning. The Broadway limited was formerly known as the "Pennsylvania Special," and while bearing that name made record breaking runs on several occasions. It was then scheduled to cover the distance between the terminals—New York and Chicago—in eighteen hours. Then five cars were the limit, but business made it necessary to gradually increase the number of cars until it was not uncommon to the train of eight to ten cars. A few years ago the name was changed to the "Broadway Limited" and about two years ago the speed was slowed down to twenty hours between terminals. Conductor Charles A. Pinney will have charge of No. 28 this afternoon on its last run out of Chicago. Engineer Peter Carter will preside at the throttle from Chicago to Fort Wayne and Engineer John Vanosdale will be in the cab from this city to Crestline. Conductor Pinney will also have charge of No. 29 from Crestline to Chicago tomorrow on its last trip and the engineers will be Michael Shea from Crestline to Fort Wayne, and C. F. Somers from Fort Wayne to Chicago.

HERE ON COMPANY BUSINESS.

E. E. Dillide, assistant master mechanic for the Pennsylvania at Mansfield and Crestline, was a visitor at the local shops today. For several years Mr. Dillide was foreman of the company's erecting shop in Fort Wayne.

HERE ON VISIT.

Vernon Jones, formerly employed at the local Pennsylvania shops, and now located at Conway, Pa., was a visitor in the city over Thanksgiving day. He also visited at the shops this morning, renewing old acquaintances.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Nick Potentin has accepted a position as machinist at the Pennsylvania. Wabash Machinist Conney Kraft is off duty on account of sickness. John Madden, of the Wabash blacksmith shop, failed to report for duty this morning because of sickness. H. F. Daley, machinist apprentice at the Pennsylvania, was absent today on account of sickness. G. J. Nekola, blacksmith helper at the Pennsylvania, was off duty today by permission. Homer Eber, a tester in the induction motor department of the General Electric works, has gone to his home in Akron to spend a few days. E. Doyle, pipefitter at the Pennsylvania, returned to his home this morning on account of being sick. Herman Lowmarch, blacksmith helper at the Pennsylvania, failed to appear for work this morning and gave sickness as his reason. G. Seip, springmaker at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, was off duty today attending the funeral of a relative. C. G. Sorgen has accepted employment as a blacksmith helper at the Pennsylvania commencing his duties this morning. Mike Herman, employed as janitor at the Pennsylvania machine shop, is unable to perform his duties on account of being sick. Mrs. Frank Alexander and daughter are visiting at the home of Conductor and Mrs. Chris Sauer, in Bellevue. Foreman Russ Haruff, of the induction motor test department at the General Electric works, was the guest of his mother and sister at Decatur, Thanksgiving day. John Reichart, a flue welder at the Wabash shops, will resume that duty Saturday morning. He has been visiting his son, a Wabash shopman at Decatur, several days. After a week's visit with his son at Hattiesburg, Mr. and Mrs. John Thiene returned home last night and he resumed his duties as a car inspector in the Wabash yards this morning. Division Storekeeper D. E. Guy, of the Wabash, went to St. Louis last night to attend the monthly meeting of division storekeepers and supply men today. Walter Spanley, a Wabash boiler-maker, is suffering severely from an abscess on one of his arms. He went to the company's hospital at Peru today to have the afflicted arm treated. Miss Irene Long, of the information desk in the shipping department office of the General Electric works, is at Anderson, Ind., for a three or four days' visit with her relatives. Westbound Nickel Plate train No. 1 had to be divided at Bellevue today and ran thence to Chicago in two sections. Travel over the line is very heavy and trains cannot make schedule time unless they are operated in two sections. Leo Hines, whose resignation at the small motor department at the General Electric works was mentioned by The Sentinel several days ago, left for Iowa this morning, where he will assume the duties of a responsible position with an electrical company next Monday. Mrs. Moon and Miss Margaret Moon, wife and daughter, respectively, of J. L. Moon, the resident engineer of the induction motor department of the General Electric works, left this morning for Schenectady, their former home, where they will remain until after the holidays. Mr. Moon will probably join them there during the holiday week. Trainmaster George Robinson, of the Chicago division of the Nickel Plate, received a letter today from Capt. Harry N. Williams, who is "somewhere in France." Captain Williams sends his regards to his friends and states that he is well and likes soldier life. His address is U. S. M. P. O. 702, A. E. F., via Chicago, Ill., and he invites friends to write. First Lieutenant John Green, of Camp Benjamin Harrison, who came here Wednesday to see his friends at Electric works, has gone to his home in Akron to spend a few days.

E. Doyle, pipefitter at the Pennsylvania, returned to his home this morning on account of being sick.

Herman Lowmarch, blacksmith helper at the Pennsylvania, failed to appear for work this morning and gave sickness as his reason.

G. Seip, springmaker at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, was off duty today attending the funeral of a relative.

Mr. Moon will probably join them there during the holiday week.

Trainmaster George Robinson, of the Chicago division of the Nickel Plate, received a letter today from Capt. Harry N. Williams, who is "somewhere in France." Captain Williams sends his regards to his friends and states that he is well and likes soldier life. His address is U. S. M. P. O. 702, A. E. F., via Chicago, Ill., and he invites friends to write.

First Lieutenant John Green, of Camp Benjamin Harrison, who came here Wednesday to see his friends at the General Electric works and elsewhere, left yesterday for Columbus to visit his sister. Lieutenant Green has instructions to report at the camp at Chillicothe, Ohio, December 15, to prepare for the move to the front. Before enlisting, Lieutenant Green was employed as a tester in the General Electric works. He is a veteran in the service and was with the United States troops in Mexico.

Whenever the government needs them. Now practically all branches of the army are open and these men will have a chance to pick the department which they want to enter.

Friday five left for Indianapolis for examination into the service, one for the aviation section, three for the engineers and one for the remount.

SIX TAKE FLIGHT FROM PENAL FARM

Greencastle, Ind., Nov. 30.—Six prisoners escaped from the Indiana penal farm last night it became generally known here today. The six made a dash for liberty before guards could be notified. Among them were Glenn McLain, of Galveston, Ind., sentenced from Howard county to serve eighty days for trespassing, and Alex Katt, sentenced from South Bend for one year for malicious trespass. Authorities in surrounding counties are searching for the men.

DRAFT RESISTERS ARE GETTING THEIR SHARE

Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 30.—Federal Judge Ralph E. Campbell today began passing sentence on 95 draft resisters and other violators of the selective service law, who pleaded guilty at Ardmore recently. C. C. Brewer, leader of Friendship local of the Working Class union in Seminole county, drew two years at Leavenworth. His son was sentenced to ninety days in jail. Both were members of a band of resisters, which engaged federal officers in a battle in Seminole county. Others were given sentences ranging from ninety days to two years.

JOBS SECURED FOR 156 THE PAST WEEK

Jobs were secured for 156 applicants at the office of the state free employment bureau during the past week. One hundred and thirty-seven were men and 19 women. The male applicants were given employment as follows: Driver, 1; farm hands, 12; fireman, 1; laborers, 116; machinists, 3; masons, 1; teamsters, 2. Employment was given to women as follows: Cook, 1; day workers, 2; dishwashers, 5; general housework, 5; kitchen work, 1; laundresses, 2; waitresses, 2.

FIFTEEN DAYS.

But fifteen more days remain for the young men of draft age to enlist in the United States army. After December 15 those between 21 and 21 will be classified according to the draft and subject to its call and

BAD FRENCHMAN WAS BORN IN THIS LAND

Paris, Nov. 30.—The French soldier named Goldsoll against whom proceedings have been instituted by the military authorities, was born in the United States in 1872. He is a naturalized Frenchman, and was sent to the United States in August, 1915, with a commission to buy war material. Captain Andre Tardieu, the French high commissioner to the United States, discovered that Goldsoll obtained commissions from American houses on the sale of purchase of automobiles amounting to ten million francs. He is charged with obtaining several million francs in commissions. Before the war Goldsoll was manager for a Paris jewelry house.

SHOP MEETINGS.

Through the agency of the Railroad Y. M. C. A., Pennsylvania and Wabash shopmen will have a special opportunity to hear the revival party coming to the Crescent Avenue Evangelical church. On Tuesday noon, Mrs. Daisy Barr, assisted by Mrs. Mason and Mr. Halmood, will conduct a shop meeting in the Pennsylvania machine shop. On Wednesday, at noon, the party will conduct a meeting at the east yards, and on Thursday at the Wabash shops.

SOLDIER BOYS LOSE TO KENDALLVILLE TEAM

In One of the Best Games of the Season by Score of 15 to 14.

It was a real soldiers' game at League park yesterday and it was fought to the last kick with a determination to win. A drop kick from Camp Taylor's eighteen-yard line was the cue for the soldiers' retreat, and instead of a 14 to 12 victory for Camp Taylor the final count was 15 to 14 for the Kendallville Overalls. It was an exciting battle from start to finish, one of the most exciting contests that has ever been seen on the local field.

It was a bitter struggle, with the advantage shifting from one side to the other almost every minute. The soldiers took the lead by one point in the early moments of the game, after trailing by five for two periods, and there was much enthusiasm shown by their supporters at what looked like a sure victory. But this joy was soon turned to sorrow when Kendallville, after driving the ball to the soldiers' eighteen-yard line sent the ball clear and straight over the crossbar with a drop kick. This gave them the necessary three points in their favor. The army boys could not gain the necessary touchdown in the short time which remained to them.

The Kendallville eleven were the first to register. However, this was not entirely owing to superior playing, the touchdown being somewhat in the nature of a fluke. The soldiers had charged the opposing line and the ball was fumbled almost before it was fairly started. Captain Shauck, who darted around the end, had almost a clear field, and snatching the ball ran sixty-five yards, intending without opposition to the soldiers' goal. Leland failed, however, in his attempt to kick goal.

The army lads only fought the harder and the advantage of Kendallville did not remain but a few moments. They took the lead by a point. Failing to make the required distance, the Kendallvilles punted out. Bair failed on the ball near the Overalls' twenty-five-yard line. A series of rushes advanced the soldiers to within eight yards of goal. Here their opponents held them safely for a time, but without avail. Bair finally got away around left end and went over the line, and later Vesey sent the ball sailing over the bar for goal. Again the enthusiasm of the soldiers' supporters was at fever heat, but this was short lived for the sturdy Kendallvilles soon scored another touchdown and very quickly after the start of the second period. They gained the ball on their own ten-yard line. McQuinn made a thirty-five-yard run around the end and they were in the soldiers' territory. The soldiers held on their twelve-yard line, but here Kendallville's center rushes bucked the line for seven yards more. They had only one yard to go on their fourth down and the Kendallville team made it by inches. They placed the ball within three feet of the goal and Keen carried it over on the next play. McQuinn failed to kick goal, however, and Kendallville was leading by five points.

It was a royal scrimmage in the third period and neither side scored. In the start of the last quarter the army boys gained the advantage for the second time and seemed favorable for a victory. The ball was being worked back and forth into Kendallville territory and it finally went to the soldiers on their opponents' thirty-five yard line. Myers proved himself a hero at this particular point of the game. After carrying the ball for a ten yard gain, he gained liberty on his next play and made a most exciting run around the end the remainder of the way and placed the ball safely behind the posts for a touchdown. Miller a moment later added to the score by a perfect kick for goal.

As soon as the Kendallvilles received the ball on the next kickoff they started a push which brought them to within eighteen yards of the soldiers' goal. The boys from Camp Taylor displayed a most stubborn resistance. The time was growing short, it lacked only three minutes to the final whistle, and they decided to chance a drop kick. This was made perfectly by Bair and the ball went sailing over goal. It proved the winner. The soldiers were not able to score again in the few remaining minutes which were left to them and the game ended with the ball in their possession.

It was a tough game to lose and a splendid game to win.

SPORTING NOTES.
Cleveland will hold a two weeks light harness racing program on the ice.
Peter the Great, 2:07 1/4, is the sire of 45 members of the 2:10 trotting list.
Many prominent pugilists will engage in a series of ten four-round contests at Philadelphia Dec. 19, for the tobacco fund for the soldiers.

Ernie Hjerberg, the Swedish trainer, will, it is expected, visit New York during the Christmas holidays and give information regarding athletics in Europe.
Francion will open the basketball season with Manhattan college on Dec. 4. They will take part in the intercollegiate league games.
Coach Jack Moakley, of Cornell, will hold a series of military company track and field sports, in which teams from all of the companies enrolled in the officers' reserve training corps at the Ithaca institution will compete. The meets will feature the fall, winter and spring programs. Military drill is compulsory for freshmen and sophomores and the contests will solve the problem of interesting students in athletics.

At a recent dog show in Birmingham, Ala., a dachshund, Count von Puck, which came over on the undersea boat Deutschland, was a winner. An American, J. R. McGregor, is now the owner of the animal.

Connecticut Valley college plans a big track meet for Springfield next May.

Four Maine colleges, Maine, Colby, Bowdoin and Bates, have adopted the baseball schedule for next year, starting April 19 and concluding June 13.

HAMMOND DEFEATS CORNELL-HAMBURG

The Hammond Clabbers defeated the Cornell-Hamburgs Thanksgiving day at Hammond by a score of 15 to 0. Considerable local interest in this game was taken by reason of the fact that the Friars will play at Hammond next Sunday.

SOLDIER-GOLFER FRANCIS QUIMET IS REAL MONEY-GETTER FOR WAR FUNDS

FRANCIS QUIMET AND JOHN ANDERSON.

Francis Quimet, former open golf champion, has found two ways to show his patriotism.

Quimet is a private at Camp Devins, Mass., having given up his sporting goods business in Boston to answer the first draft and has found time between learning how to be a soldier to earn $12,000 for various war funds by his golf play.

His last match was at the Englewood, N. J., links where he played a foursome with Jesse Guilford, Oswald Kirkby and John Anderson.

ONE-FIFTH OF COAL USED IN THIS STATE WASTED

Indiana Fuel Administration
Asks People to Cut Out
This Waste.

Indianapolis, Nov. 29.—(Special Correspondence.)—One-fifth of the coal consumption in industrial and domestic use in the United States is a total waste. Twenty per cent of the coal burned in Indiana goes up in smoke without rendering service. This means that Indiana's annual fuel waste is approximately 2,000,000 tons. At present prices this means we are spending about $10,000,000 for our carelessness and ignorance.

Investigation by United States officials and, more recently, by the University of Illinois, leaves no room for doubt but that 99 out of every 100 households in the country waste one-fifth of the fuel bought. The man who, last winter, used ten tons of coal in his furnace, could have obtained the same, if not better results, on eight tons of coal, if he had given his furnace better and more intelligent attention.

Most persons believe that firing a furnace is merely a matter of heaping in the coal and, when the ash chamber will hold no more, carrying out the ashes. They never think of screening ashes to recover coke rich in heat units nor has it occurred to them that it is worth while to keep the ash chamber cleaned out each day in order that there shall be a uniform and unobstructed draft to the fire box of the furnace, giving efficient combustion.

A crack in the casing of the ash chamber of the boiler setting, a door that does not fit snugly to the fire box, are, for most persons, things so trivial as to deserve no attention, things so trivial as to deserve no attention, and yet each is costing the man who pays the fuel bill real, hard money. Just one dollar out of every five spent for coal, is spent because these trivial defects receive no attention.

Another fuel loss is bound to result where persons fail to keep boiler flues and hot air pipes clean. Soot is one of the best non-conductors of heat known. Where a hot water or steam plant is used, if soot and dust is permitted to accumulate on the flues, and if the water side of the flues are permitted to become coated, the requirements for heat necessary to keep the water at the right temperature, is vastly increased and, as a result, more coal is shoveled into the fire box.

As a rule, if you would get the maximum heat from your furnace or steam plant, it should not be heavily fired. That is coal should not be thrown in in heaps. A thin, uniform bed of fire gives more complete combustion and more heat than where the fire bed is thicker and much of the combustible gases escape out the flue without being burned.

The fellow who really wishes to save money can do a job worth while right at the door of his furnace. He really can save one dollar of every five he has been spending for coal.

But the Indiana coal situation is more than a money saving question. In round numbers Indiana has been using 6,000,000 tons of Indiana coal each year and 9,000,000 tons shipped in from other states. Indiana has been shipping out to other states less than 5,000,000 tons. In other words if we use all the available coal mined in Indiana for Indiana use, we shall still be short about 4,000,000 tons of our normal need.

Indiana is now receiving very little coal from other states. There is no reason to expect that we shall receive from other states anything like the normal supply. If we get 2,000,000 tons of foreign coal in Indiana we shall be doing very well. This quantity leaves us 2,000,000 tons shy on our needs in a normal year, to say nothing of our needs in this abnormal year when war industries are demanding twice as much coal as usual and when railroads are burning more coal than ever before.

It looks as if we are going to be about 2,000,000 tons short of coal this winter in Indiana. But we have been wasting each year 2,000,000 tons.

What are we going to do about it? If we continue to waste as in other years, in order to keep our homes comfortably heated, many industries essential to the war and not engaged in producing necessities of life, must close down. If we quit wasting coal we may be able to save enough to keep the vast majority of our industries running.

What shall be done about it is up to the fellow who puts the coal in the furnace.

LLOYD GEORGE PAYS

TRIBUTE TO ARMEN

Calls the British Aviators

"Chivalry of Army,"

in Speech.

London, Nov. 30.—"The Chivalry of the Army," was the title bestowed upon the British air forces by Premier Lloyd George in a tribute he paid to them in a recent speech in the house of commons. The premier was moving a vote of thanks to the British armies and navy. Of the aviation service he said:

"The heavens are their battlefields, they are the cavalry of the clouds. High above the squalor and the mud, so high in the firmament that they are not visible from earth, they fight out the eternal issues of right and wrong. Their struggles there by day and night are like a Miltonic conflict between the winged hosts of light and darkness. They fight the foe high up and they fight him low. They skim like swallows along the ground, attacking armed men in their trenches. They scatter infantry on the march and destroy convoys. Every flight is a romance, every record is an epic. They are the knights of the war, without fear and without reproach. The old legend of chivalry, not merely by the power of their individual exploits, but by the nobility of their spirit and among the multitude of heroes we must continuously thank the chivalry of the army."

Handsomeness and Shy

Writing for the Chicago Tribune, Ring Lardner has the following to say about the Great Lakes-Fort Sheridan game played yesterday in Chicago, in which Joe Pliska played with the training camp eleven.

"Joe Pliska was asked, after the pastime, what he thought of Pat Smith's work. 'Which team was he on?' inquired Joe. 'The navy's,' said he. 'Then he was good,' said Joe."

JOE DIDN'T KNOW.

Pliska Forgot What Team He Was Playing On.

Manager Fishering, of the Friars, has made arrangements with the Nickel Plate railroad for a sleeper to take local fans and players to Hammond Sunday for the final game of the season. The sleeper will be set off here shortly after 10 o'clock and will be attached to the regular train leaving here at 2:45 o'clock, arriving at Hammond at 6:40 Sunday morning. A special rate has been secured of $1 a berth. Two may occupy one berth at 50 cents each. The fare will be $5.62 for the round trip plus the berth. The return trip will be made over the Pennsylvania, arriving here at 11:50 Sunday night.

The same team will be in the field Sunday as appeared against Wabash Saturday with the exception of Huntington, who has been released. Feeney will coach. Johnson, who played here last season, and who also played in the opening game this season, will be with the Friars.

RECOVERS FROM INJURIES.

Harold Ryder, the seven-year-old boy who was run over by an automobile last week, has completely recovered and was discharged from the St. Joseph hospital Thursday. The lad's escape from death and his complete recovery are remarkable as both wheels of the machine passed over him.

IS LONGING

FOR PEACE

fundamental principles of the imperial constitution cannot and shall not be changed.

The reichstag was packed when the chancellor began his speech. The new state secretaries, the new Prussian minister, the new Bavarian premier, the members of the reigning German houses, the Austrian, Turkish and Bulgarian ambassadors and all the neutral ministers were present.

Claims Success of Arms.
The imperial chancellor opened his speech, after personal references to his assumption of office, by asking the loyal co-operation of the reichstag. He continued:

"We are approaching the end of the year that has been far-reaching and decisive events in many theaters of war. I am proud and thankful to say that the arms of Germany and her allies have been successful on almost every occasion and everywhere."

He recalled that the German battle had continued almost without interruption since July and that the British army was superior in number and that in the fight. Notwithstanding the loss of some villages and farms the German front there remained unshaken and the enemy was far from ever from his object of reaching the Flemish coast to destroy German U-boat bases. He added:

Discounts the Tanks.
"Recognizing the failure of their attacks in Flanders, the British are seeking near Cambrai a decisive result. The hope which Great Britain placed on the wholesale use of tanks has not been fulfilled. They lay destroyed on the battlefield by successful German counter attacks. The initial British success was parried by the entrance of our reserves."

"The French also have had local successes northeast of Suissons and before Verdun, but every strategic exploitation of these has been prevented by the German army command. Every one remembers the events in the east which led to the conquest of Riga and Jacobstadt."

"The glorious advance of the armies of the central powers in Italy holds the world in suspense even today. Overwhelmingly difficult tasks have been accomplished there by the fighting strength of the German and Austro-Hungarian troops in their surprising rapid attack and penetration of rough mountain territory."

"From the Sinai peninsula the British are operating against the Turkish troops in Palestine and have been able to achieve certain initial successes there. These, however, have no influence on the general war situation from a military point of view."

Not Very Strong on Submarines.

After declaring that the German war fleet had thoroughly fulfilled the hopes and expectations placed in it, the chancellor reviewed the submarine campaign, which he said is the only effective way of battling against the power of Germany's enemy and the "economic war forced upon her." He was hopeful of its success and said that the allies were unable to make progress against it, either by commandeering neutral ships or by building new ones.

He referred to Germany and her allies as having placed them on the foundation of the papal peace note of last August and said that every ground had been removed for the "foolish argument" that the object of her enemies was to destroy German military power, which was destroying the peace of nations. He said: "Our war aim from the first day was the defense of the fatherland and the inviolability of its territory, freedom and independence of its economic life. On that account we could erect joyfully the pope's peace appeal. The spirit in which the answer to the papal note was given, still is alive today but—so much the enemy must admit—this answer signified no license for the criminal lengthening of the war."

Blames Allies for Prolonging War.

"For the continuation of the terrible slaughter and the destruction of irreplaceable works of civilization and for the mad self-mangling of Europe the enemy alone bears the responsibility and will also have to bear the consequences. This applies especially to Sonnino, (Baron Sonnino, Italian minister of foreign affairs). If the Italian authorities who drove into the war the unfortunate population of a beautiful land bound by us by a thousandfold memories had taken the hand of peace held out by the pope, the frightful defeat of their armies with all its associated consequences would not have taken place."

May Italy's friends accept this as a warning and lend an ear at least to the voice of reason and humanity." In conclusion the chancellor said that Germany's watchword must be "Wait! Endure! Hold out!"

The speech was received with applause from almost the whole house, only the extreme right and extreme left not participating.

THE PEACE DEBATE.

Amsterdam, Nov. 30.—The war credit of fifteen billion marks asked for by Chancellor von Hertling, passed its first and second readings in the reichstag yesterday after brief remarks by Deputies Scheideemann and Haase. The third reading has been set for Saturday.

In the debate following the chancellor's speech Herr Trimborn, on behalf of the gression and a peace of renunciation. He demanded a peace of conciliation, guaranteeing Germany's integrity, integrity of her frontiers and her complete independence, especially economic.

"What the chancellor has said concerning Russia," he added, "meets with our entire and joyful approval. The German people sincerely desire correct economic and political relations with new Russia. The chancellor has the centurial full confidence."

Herr Scheideemann, for the socialists, said that a party considered the new government an advance, giving to the manner of its formation. The socialists would support a parliamentary government but would oppose it where differences of opinion that could not be bridged arose. People of the varying countries must conclude peace with each other, the socialist leader added. The German people did not want the Polish crown for new duchies, Poland, Lithuania and other territories might determine their future as they liked. He declared that German party joyfully welcomed and supported the first step of the Russian revolution, and ardently awaited the day when the workmen of France and Great Britain would meet them along the same lines. The development which had become irresistible in Russia would also penetrate, he hoped, to other countries. Russia was not defeated in this war, only those were defeated who desired to fight to the bitter end.

the front. In all quarters they are declared to be most enthusiastic and ready to take the first step of the Russian revolution, and ardently awaited the day when the workmen of France and Great Britain would meet them along the same lines.

Get All Sorts of War Work.

During the last few days one unit has been working with grenades and automatic rifles while another has been working on military problems in maneuvers. Another unit has been in the instruction trenches, which bring them as near as possible to actual fighting conditions. Many of the former guardsmen in training have heard guns roaring in the distance. They are all being given the same course of instruction as the first contingents of regulars have undergone.

The guardsmen are all in good health. The reason it is not permitted to mention units by name is that if one is mentioned the way is open to mention all of them, which means the revealing of identification numbers and other information which is of importance to the enemy.

But for the information of the relatives and families of the men every one who has been in the United States has arrived safely in France.

ACCOMPLISH GREAT MOVEMENT.

Washington, Nov. 30.—Announcement of the arrival in France of the first national guard units give the first official notice that an extensive troop movement has been accomplished despite hostile submarines, shortage of troops and supplies ships and other obstacles, but without the loss of a man. Thousands of men have been moved to the seaboard from all parts of the country, loaded on transports and safely landed in France without any general knowledge of the facts having been disclosed to the enemy at large. War department officials were not at General Pershing's headquarters when he arrived.

announce the arrival of the national guard forces, but permission to publish the designations of the guard units now at the train centers in France is still withheld. Unless General Pershing sees fit to release the information there is no present prospect of its publication. It can be stated, however, that the brief dispatch of today covers a large movement that has been in progress for several weeks.

Next to the Trenches.
The next stage will be actual occupation of front line trenches. Guard units to be sent later will be more sectional in character, the grouping of the old divisional organization having been adhered to as closely as possible. The entire country, however, shares in the honor of having representative units now at the front in the world war.

Secretary Baker has announced that as fast as men and ships are ready they will be combined and additional forces sent to join Gen. Pershing. By this means guard divisions fitted for transport are fitted for transportation to the training camps in France will be first to go.

May Regroup Divisions.

It appears possible that the re-grouping of national army divisions made necessary by the use of drafted men to fill up depleted national guard divisions will determine the order of the first national army units to be sent over. In that re-grouping two national army divisions were formed, one representing the whole eastern section of the country and one equally representative of all middle states. All of the far west is already in the national army division at Camp Lewis, American Lake, Wash.

If the same policy is followed with relation to the national army that has been followed in connection with the national guard it seems likely that these three divisions, other things, such as training and equipment being equal, would be the first of the national army to go over as every state in the union will then have national army men at the front as it now has national guardsmen.

year ago was 9,669 in seals and $96.60 in money.

The new annunciator of the day's receipts has been erected at the court house. It shows the figure of a colossal nurse pointing to the graduated scale in the form of the society's cross—the upright with two arms. It is a "double cross"—but farmers will not find bad sense in that the bug is doomed. The double cross in its infinitely hood meaning bears a message of physical salvation not only to millions of homes within the borders of U. S. A., but to the millions of soldiers that are fighting to make the world safe for democracy. Daily the graduated scale will show the heart interest the people of Allen county take in this seal sale.

"The farmers of Allen county are earnestly urged to buy the seals," said George H. Cross, secretary of the seal sale. "It is the only way to help the war effort."

"The appeal is to the farmers to leave town until they invest in seals. They can be found at drug stores and at the postoffice, as well as at Red Cross headquarters."

"We are returning the leaves of seals," writes one of the receivers, "because we have a large number left over from last year."

This reminds headquarters of the policeman in the crowd where a collection was being taken, who shows his star.

The seals of 1917 are new and entirely different from those of last year. The receiver of a package mailed with last year's stamps is likely to think things when he or she sees them on the envelope.

"Left over seals, huh?"—one hears the grunt that tells so much.

DAY'S WAR SUMMARY.

National guardsmen from every state in the union and the vanguard of the American army are now behind the front in France. Many of the former guardsmen are already undergoing training within sound of the guns at the front. Meanwhile American aviators are training actively with the American troops.

Germany is ready to discuss peace with Russia if envoys with full powers are sent to Berlin, Count von Hertling, the new imperial chancellor, declared yesterday before the reichstag. He expressed the wish that the present effort of the Bolsheviks would bring about a peace which would end the situation of the world.

armies of the central powers have been generally successful and that the submarine warfare was successful and that the allies were unable to make progress against it.

The chancellor declared that the central powers still stood by their answer to the peace note of the pope. He said that the central powers were not responsible for the prolongation of the war and held out as a warning to others "the glorious advance" into Italy. Apparently the chancellor did not state German peace terms specifically nor did he mention the reichstag resolution in favor of peace, without annexation and indemnities.

Conditions in Russia apparently remain greatly unsettled. It is reported that Lenin's government has given way to a socialist coalition cabinet, in which the Bolsheviks are represented.

On the various war fronts there has been little change. The British are pushing forward toward Cambrai and have made a slight advance west of Bourlon wood. Heavy artillery activity continues in the Ypres sector. No infantry actions of importance are reported from the Italian front, but opposing cannon are very busy. Berlin reports the repulse of Italian attacks against the positions west of the Brenita and west of the Piave.

Much discussion has been provoked in England by the publication of a letter from the Marquis of Lansdowne, a veteran political leader. He pleads for a revision of the war aims of the allies and an attempt to obtain peace before the end of the year.

The letter has caused such a sensation that it is understood that it will be the subject of debate in the British house of commons, probably early next week.

ENGINEERS

AIDED BYNG

Show American Speed.

The speed with which the lines have been laid up through the broken Hindenburg defenses during the past week has called forth the highest praise from the British authorities. The Americans have been working in shifts twenty-four hours a day and no such amount of track has been laid in this region in so short a time before. The manner in which they stood up under the strain has led to their being dubbed the "force of American athletes."

Naturally the Americans have for a long time been working under the range of enemy artillery and more than once they have come under heavy shell fire. One of the most striking sights during the front has been that of the engineers laboring coolly at their tracks while great shells were bursting one hundred yards away.

Work Ripped Up by Shells.
At one time the Germans cut loose with their guns on a section of the tracks and tore up the road of rails. It was necessary to work at night or on foggy days in order to avoid enemy observations. There have been three forces of Americans employed in this region since about August. Two of them have been occupied with the operation and maintenance of the lines.

After the engineers had reached a point where they were exposed on the skyline it was necessary to construct a large number of the engineers laboring coolly at their tracks while great shells were bursting one hundred yards away.

All Fit and Eager.
The correspondent has visited many of these engineers since their arrival and has found them as fit as possible and eager for work. Most of them undoubtedly look forward to the time when they will be able to join the American forces, but just now they are content to do their bit here and learn valuable lessons in military railroad.

The correspondent was talking with three officers today and the only anxiety expressed about the future was the fear that they might later be compelled to work far back of the lines out of the fighting one. The engineers love to hear the guns and get as close to the firing line as military orders permit.

Volunteer to Go Under Fire.
Some of them had an unusual experience, much to their liking, on the first day of the offensive. The British called for volunteer stretcher bearers to go forward to the battlefield and bring in wounded and injured Germans.

Their just had finished a hard day's work on the railway, but they gladly undertook the new, arduous and dangerous task and labored through the night getting injured soldiers back to the dressing stations. They were highly complimented by the British for their efficiency in this line of service which was rather far-reached from building railroads.

LOCAL MARKETS

MARKETS ARE LIGHT AFTER THANKSGIVING

Only Five Loads of Hay and Grain Received at the City Scales.

Fort Wayne markets were unable to recover from the Thanksgiving festivities and as a result there were not many farmers in the city. The prices reported were at a slight advance over those paid during the first of the week. One load of hay brought $22 at the scales, two loads of new corn brought $1.15 and two loads of oats brought 68 cents. This represented the total business at the scales.

Dealers say that potatoes are arriving in much better condition as regards frost damage now. Producers have been holding back their supply of first class potatoes until they could get rid of the damaged ones and have been shipping these heavily.

Genuine Jersey sweet potatoes are practically the only variety that are moving to the local market in volume and even they are scarce. The condition of the southern grown stock became so bad that many local dealers discontinued handling them.

DESERTERS WILL BE GIVEN PUBLIC BRAND

Men Who Slope from Camp Taylor to Be Rigorously Treated.

Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky., Nov. 30.—Southern Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky men who desert from the ranks of the eighty-fourth division, national army here, will be faced not only with the certainty of heavy punishment, but their dereliction to duty will be given the widest possible publicity, particularly in the neighborhood from which they come. Heretofore men who have absented themselves without permission and remained away for the ten days' period necessary to make them liable to a charge of desertion, have been favored to some extent because it was felt that in their ignorance of things military the extreme heinousness of their act may not have been realized. Now, however, with every man in the division having the benefit of about two months' training, it is felt that this partial justification of ignorance can no longer be given any man who deserts.

Hereafter when any man is found to be absent without leave that fact will be reported to the exemption board of the district from which he was drawn. Ten days after his absence is noted, if he has not in the meantime returned, the exemption board will be notified that the man has been posted as a deserter. The board will be requested to give the widest possible publicity to this fact, and at the same time a reward of $50 will be offered for the man's capture. This reward will be paid upon the delivery of the deserter at Camp Zachary Taylor.

The number of desertions from the camp here has been until this time very small. Not more than a dozen rewards have been paid for the return of offenders.

The crime of desertion in time of war is punishable by "death or such other penalty as a court martial may inflict," according to the articles of war. The death penalty rarely is invoked, and then almost invariably only if the offense is committed in the face of the enemy. However, the punishment meted out usually is a heavy one, most frequently being a sentence to confinement for a long period of years in a federal penitentiary at hard labor.

The mere leaving of duty under ordinary circumstances does not make a soldier a deserter. He is first posted as a "trailer," if he fails to present himself within ten days, he then officially becomes a deserter. Absence for ten days, however, is not necessary before a man can be posted as a deserter, if the circumstances surrounding his disappearance make it apparent that desertion is intended. The ten days' period of grace is allowed for the purpose of avoiding attaching the stigma of desertion of men who while wilfully absenting themselves for one reason or another, really intend to return.

INDIANA TO BE CENTER OF BIG DRIVE FOR CASH

State Important Factor in Campaign for Funds to Finance Y. W. C. A.

Indianapolis, Nov. 30.—Indiana is to be an important factor in the great financial drive for $4,000,000 to sweep the country during the week of Dec. 3 for the Young Women's Christian Association of America. In many respects the methods of campaigning will be similar to those employed by the Y. M. C. A. in its recent successful appeal for war funds.

Indiana, under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth A. Sweets, general secretary of the Indianapolis Y. W. C. A., will go into the field to get $100,000 of the $4,000,000.

The campaign is not to be confined to the Y. W. C. A. centers, but will be extended to every part of the state. Cities having "Y" organizations will be expected to give the strongest co-operation. The plan of organization contemplates team work in every county and township in Indiana. Campaign speakers with an appealing message of what the Y. W. C. A. is proposing to do for women and girls affected by the war, not only in this country, but in foreign lands, will go to every part of the state during the intensive campaign.

Clubwomen of the state have volunteered to assist in getting subscriptions. The Indiana Federation of Clubs, Congress of Mothers, Parent-Teacher associations, Daughters of the American Revolution, and women's committee, State Council of Defense, have promised assistance. "For the girl behind the man behind the gun" is one of the slogans to be used in the campaign.

Miss Rhoda E. McCulloch, of New York, a national Y. W. C. A. leader, will report on the Y. W. C. A. campaign.

recently, summed up the purposes of the campaign thus:

"People are turning to the Y. W. C. A. in recreational and housing problems concerning girls, because in times of peace the Y. W. C. A. was supposed to know how to take care of girls. We are facing problems of the misdirected energies of women; of migratory industrial groups of girls who must be housed and fed and enjoy proper recreation, and of the girl in the military encampment.

"War has merely thrown into relief some of the distorted conditions in social and industrial life. We cannot analyze the problems and simply say it is interesting. What we do about this problem will decide the future of womanhood everywhere."

THANKSGIVING DAY IN COLUMBIA CITY

Union Services Are Held in the Church of God Thursday Morning

Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 30.—Thanksgiving was spent in the appropriately quiet way in Columbia City. Several local people spent the day visiting friends out of the city, and practically every business house was closed, while their owners enjoyed a day of thanks and rest. Several bunting expeditions resulted in good "catches," and it was a day of happiness all around. A union service was held at the Church of God Thursday forenoon at 10 o'clock. Rev. W. E. Hunter read the scriptural reading and Rev. E. E. Hoshour gave the prayer. Rev. H. B. Leonard read the president's proclamation, and Rev. D. B. Kessinger, pastor of the U. B. church, delivered the Thanksgiving sermon. Benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. T. Bean. Music was rendered by a quartet. Court was convened in the Whitley circuit court, several matters of long standing on the docket being disposed of by Judge Whitley.

Columbia City Brief Items. James Golchin has on exhibition at his barber shop several stalks of upland celery taken from his garden, containing several hundred hills. Some of his celery is over three feet high, and quite bushy.

Ray Carver and wife and Mrs. Ella Carver were guests Thursday at the home of Mrs. David W. Nickley.

The Troy township Red Cross Auxiliary society, organized a few days ago at the home of Mrs. Jacob Marchand, will hold another meeting Thursday, December 6, at the home of Mrs. Ab Elliott, of near Larwill. The society is headed by Mrs. Edward Cornelius, chairman, and Mrs. Jacob Marchand as vice-chairman, with Mrs. Will Taylor as secretary. It is one of several township organizations working in the county for the purpose of aiding in the unity of the Red Cross Independent chapter of Whitley county, which Weak, Thin People Made Strong and Fat.

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear. Eminent specialists state that the best nerve food is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing. Weak, tired people regain strength and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves, sleep returns to the sleepless, confidence and cheerfulness replace doubt and gloom, dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health. Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks. It can be obtained from D. & N. Pharmacy, Dealer Drug Co., Meyer Bros. Co., and all first-class druggists.

CAUTION.—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh growing qualities, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh. Advertisement.

Frank Summers arrived home Wednesday from a trip of nearly three months in northwestern Ohio, during which time he demonstrated malleable ranges for a South Bend concern.

The management of the Farmers' Mill & Elevator Co. of this city has passed from the hands of John E. Gates, who desired to look after his abstract work, to Geo. Ricketts, a well known retired business man who came here two years ago from Warsaw. The company is doing a thriving business and last summer erected a splendid five-tank elevator, capable of holding 25,000 bushels of grain, protected in case of any fire that might destroy the mill proper.

The fire whistle blew bright and early Thanksgiving morning and several residents of the city counting upon a few hours' extra sleep were rudely awakened, dressed and hurried up street, only to learn that it was a false alarm.

Fuel is at a high premium in Columbia City. The local coal dealers have not combined enough fuel to last the town a single day and two weeks of zero weather at the present time would work untold hardship and suffering upon the people of Columbia City. Elliott Clayton, who has been residing on a farm near Coesse, has moved to a farm near Dowagiac, Mich. He traded 80 acres of his Union township farm for 148 acres in Michigan, and has 95 acres left here. He is well pleased with his Michigan farm.

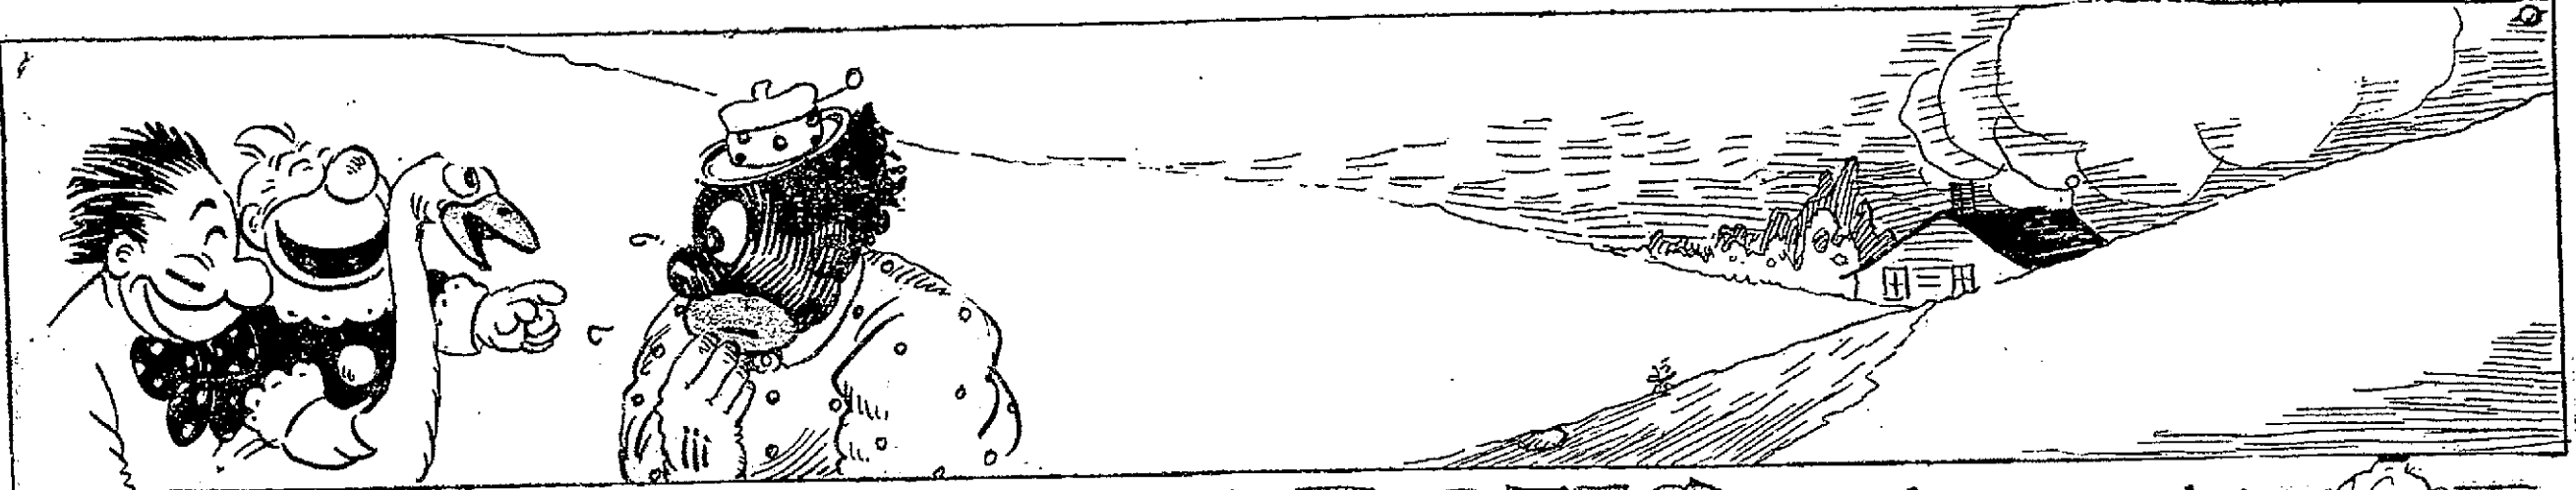

The plastering on the interior of the new city hall has been completed, with the exception of a little portion, which cannot be finished until certain other work is finished. Recently the former boss plasterer became intoxicated and was discharged by Contractor J. B. Goodall. Two other plasterers quit with the discharged foreman and endeavored to incite a strike, but were unsuccessful. The boss carpenter, Spencer Hammer, was discharged also this week and is preparing to move his family away from this city. The interior work on the Baptist church is rapidly moving along. Contractor Platts' force working unusually energetically to complete the edifice that it may be used for the dedicatory service either Christmas or New Year's day.
